SC transfers Gyanvapi case to dist judge

Says better if a senior judicial officer hears it due to complexity & sensitivity of the matter

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday transferred the Gyanvapi mosque case to the district judge in Varanasi from that of the civil judge (senior division) in the city, stating it is better if a senior and experienced judicial officer hears it because of the complexities and sensitivity of the matter.

The court also directed the district judge to prioritise an application of the mosque committee challenging the maintainability of the suit. It said its interim order of May 17 will continue till the maintainability is decided and eight weeks after that.

The SC also directed appropriate arrangements for wuzu (ablution before namaz) on the mosque premises if they have not been made already. In the May 17 order, the SC directed that the area where the 'Shivalinga' is indicated to have been found should be fully protected while Muslims should get free access to the mosque for worship.

The bench accepted the request of senior advocate Hufeza Ahmadi, appearing for the mosque committee, that the survey report should not be selectively leaked.

Ahmedi went on to argue that his challenge is to the trial court's decision to appoint the probe commission itself. "It is prohibited by the 1991 Act and the Constitution itself... Status quo that was in existence for the last 500 years has been altered. It is being sealed," he said.

The bench, however, said there are various nuances that will come into consideration. "The ascertainment of religious character of a place as a processual instrument may not fall foul of Section 3 or 4 of the Act. These are matters where we will not hazard an opinion," the court orally remarked.

On the question of maintainability, the bench said: "The moment you argue that the appointment of the commissioner is void ab initio because the suit is barred by the Act, it is farfetched, because we can't decide the maintainability of suit here right now. We have to adopt fair process... We have to maintain peace and balance on the ground." It kept the special leave petition open and will hear the matter in July. P10

Bench's poser

Police deliberately killed gang-rape suspects: Panel

WHAT NEXT — THREE SCENARIOS

1. Telangana High Court resuming hearing pending PILs, but does not take the Sirpurkar Commission report on record. Trial could then go back to the Sessions Court in the main case of gang-rape and murder
2. If HC accepts panel's findings, it could also take into consideration that prima facie a case has been established by the report. It can then commit the case to Sessions Court for trial
3. State govt moves SC claiming evidence submitted before a commission of inquiry is not admissible before a court of law

Just as mob lynching is unacceptable, so is any idea of instant justice. At any point of time, rule of law must prevail. Punishment for the crime has to be only by the procedure established by law

Grave violation of human rights by any standards - impunity is not justice for women

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

A Supreme Court-appointed panel that probed the alleged encounter killing of four persons in the gang-rape and murder of a young veterinarian in Hyderabad in 2019, tore into the police version of the events, saying it was "concocted", adding the suspects were "deliberately fired upon with an intent to cause their death".

Pointing out that three of the four suspects were minors, the panel headed by retired Supreme Court judge V S Sirpurkar recommended trial of 10 accused policemen for murder.

"It cannot be said that the police party fired in self-defence or in a bid to re-arrest the deceased suspects. The record shows that entire version of the police party beginning from the safe house to the incident at Chatanpally is concocted. It was impossible for the deceased suspects to have snatched the weapons of the police and they could not have operated the fire arms. Therefore, the entire version is unbelievable," the report said. "...it cannot be believed that the deceased suspects might have died due to the indiscriminate firing from the pistols allegedly snatched by them and it has to be held that all the deceased suspects died due to the injuries caused by the bullets fired by the police party. It cannot also be believed the deceased suspects opened fire towards the police," the report said. CONTINUED ON: P9

Panic at KIA after man's bomb hoax call

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

TO teach his brother-in-law a lesson for divorcing his sister, a 35-year-old man set off panic at the Kempegowda International Airport (KIA) by making a bomb threat call to the police control room. The accused, Shubhashish Gupta, is from West Bengal. He came to the city a few years ago in search of a job and had previously worked in the cargo section of KIA.

"Gupta's sister had a troubled marriage with one Deepak which ended up in a divorce. Gupta, who was upset with his brother-in-law, made the call in Deepak's name," a cop said. P3

SC lifts curbs on export of iron ore in Karnataka

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday allowed mining firms to export their excavated iron ore from mines in Ballari, Chitradurga, and Tumkur districts in Karnataka.

"Keeping in mind all the aforesaid factors, we are inclined to favourably consider the prayer made by the applicants and grant them permission to sell the already excavated iron ore stock-pile at various mines and stockyards located in the districts of Ballari, Tumakuru and Chitradurga in the State of Karnataka, without having to resort to the process of e-auction," the top court said.

"Permission is granted to the applicants to enter into direct contracts to lift the excavated iron ore through interstate sales. We also grant permission to the applicants to export the iron ore and pellets manufactured from the iron ore produced from the mines situated in the State of Karnataka, to countries abroad, as is being done in the rest of the country, but strictly in terms of the extant policy of the Government of India," it added. 243 wards will be carved out with an average population of 35,000

Process should be complete by July-end to hold the BBMP elections

Delimitation will not cover 5 sq km of suburbs

CM says process in its final stages

Bengaluru: CM Basavaraj Bommai has welcomed the Supreme Court order asking the State government to complete the process of ward delimitation and reservation of wards for Other Backward Classes (OBC) in eight weeks, to hold the BBMP polls. Bommai told reporters the delimitation process is in its final stage. The Justice Bhaktavatsala Commission is working on preparing the OBC caste reservation matrix for wards. "I welcome the Supreme Court order to hold polls to local bodies with provision for OBC reservation, as it has upheld the State government's plea in this regard," he said.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

SOON after the Supreme Court ordered the government to complete the delimitation exercise of Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) from 198 to 243 wards that would go for election, members of a Joint House Panel decided to drop the idea of adding 5sqkm area of gram panchayats into its jurisdiction.

Aiming to hold BBMP elections in August, the panel members said the city will grow multi-fold, and management with one corporation will become impossible.

BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath on Friday said the delimitation exercise can be completed within the deadline, as 243 wards are being carved out from the existing 198 wards. He said additional areas are not being included at the moment. The draft is almost ready and will be sent to the government for approval. It will be finalised by the chief secretary, special commissioner (finance), deputy commissioners and panel members. The prime principle in the delimitation exercise has been equi-distribution of population and area.

As per the panel, each ward will have a population of around 35,000-36,000 while geographical area is not a constraint, but electoral census blocks have been referred for division. Panel member and Basavanagudi MLA Ravi Subramanya said there was only a proposal for inclusion of 5sqkm gram panchayat areas of KR Puram, Mahadevapura and parts of Yelahanka. Since infrastructure will be an issue, it was decided to drop it and focus on the existing 198 wards for better administration.

"Once the process is done, we will call for objections, 15 days' time will be given and a final notification will be issued. After this, reservation will have to be taken up. We will be able to finish it in two months, and the Election Commission may come up with a election calendar," he said.

A BJP leader said the report will be given to the state government by Monday. "Soon after CM Basavaraj Bommai is back from Delhi, it will be cleared and put in public domain for objections. By July 20, the entire process will be completed, and code of conduct should set in by July 24. Elections would be held in August," the BJP leader said.

> Once the process is done, we will call for objections, 15 days' time will be given and a final notification will be issued. After this, reservation will have to be taken up.
> Ravi Subramanya, Basavanagudi MLA

Panel member S Raghu said of the 243 wards, 50 per cent will be reserved for women and OBCs. He added that the BBMP Act does not include the 5sqkm area.

A senior BBMP official said, "Due to delays in inclusion, some gram panchayats have already held their elections and curtailing that is not possible. Also, since many suburbs have grown, including some and leaving out the rest is not right."

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Soon after delimitation was announced, the question of what to name the new wards has become a matter of concern. "Many MLAs, former corporators and influential citizens are keen that wards be named after them. This is delaying the final draft. So we have suggested naming wards based on areas, roads or layouts with the maximum population. Names of deceased politicians and freedom fighters are also being listed. ," a BBMP official told TNIE.

No excuses, polls must be held: HDK

BENGALURU: Former Chief Minister H D Kumaraswamy on Monday said that the JDS welcomes the Supreme Court verdict on BBMP elections. He was speaking to the media after visiting the rain-affected areas of Dasarahalli Assembly constituency in the city and heard the plight of the residents in the area. He said that in the last two years, the BJP government did not hold municipal elections even after the term expired. Somehow, the election was postponed. Now the Supreme Court has given an order. The government should hold elections without making any excuses.

Spl task force to monitor works: CM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai, who carried out an inspection of the Mahadevapura Zone today, announced that a special task force for each BBMP zone will be set up for monitoring development works.

Sai Layout, Nagappa Reddy Layout, and Pai Layout of Mahadevpura Zone witnessed floods after storm water drains of Hebbal Valley overflowed following heavy downpour over the last few days.

Bommai told reporters that Hebbal Valley and its canal were inspected for the second day today, and special orders have been issued to set up an additional sewage treatment plant yesterday.

He said that 48 crore has been sanctioned for the railway bridge, which has been identified as the origin of the problem, and the railway department has also agreed to design it. "We will finalize the tenders by next week, and it will be done by February. Work to widen the canal area will also be taken up. In these places (Sai Layout, Nagappa Reddy Layout, and Pai Layout of the Mahadevpura Zone) the drains are small, and when it rains, the low-lying areas are flooded. We are searching for additional land from ITI and I will also talk to them. To avoid flooding in future, we're making 900 m additional drains. The drain work when it is completed will spare three of the four Layouts from rain-related issues. The homes and structures which have been built will be cleared," the CM said.

Cabinet ministers to be incharge of zones

Bommai said that the task force will have Cabinet Ministers as in-charge of the respective zone. "MLAs and MPs will be members of the task force. Engineers and Joint Commissioners will also be involved. The task force will monitor development works and respond to emergency situations. By the end of the day, I will set up the task force," the CM said.

₹1 CRORE DEAL

Techie: Builder resold my flat

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

A city-based software engineer who had paid ₹1 crore to purchase a flat at Mantri Webcity residential complex on Hennur Main Road is waging a legal battle against Mantri Developers. Despite getting a favourable verdict from the Real Estate Regulatory Authority (RERA) court, and after filing an FIR against the builder in the past, Sai Pramod is flummoxed as he has learnt that the 3 BHK flat he had purchased was sold by Mantri Developers two months ago.

"The project with 1,500+ apartments was supposed to be readied by August 2016. Due to delays, I had approached the RERA court for justice. The court ruled in my favour in March 2019 and asked them to pay ₹41 lakh plus other charges including 10.75% per annum interest and the builder now needs to pay ₹55 lakh. I have got nothing despite the court order. I later filed a writ petition in the High Court against the tahsildar who is supposed to ensure the order is upheld in December 2021," he asked.

Pramod also filed an FIR on May 18, 2019, at Cubbon Park against Mantri under Sections 420 and 506. "No action was taken for two years by the cops. After I approached the HC, they said the builder had recently got a stay against all FIRs filed against him," he said. "How can they sell my unit X-1501 without returning my money or even getting a No Objection certificate from me?" he asked. I have spoken to the new buyers too to confirm it, he said. The government portal, Kaveri Online, shows the apartment had been sold on February 18, 2022.

TNIE's calls to Mantri Developers went unanswered. Gaurav Mishra, who said he looked after the sales of WebCity however said Sai Pramod had already been allotted a flat of a bigger size at Mantri Lithos.

V-C trying to divert funds, alleges BU Syndicate

DONNA EVA @ Bengaluru

BANGALORE University is in turmoil yet again, after Syndicate members accused Vice-Chancellor Dr KR Venugopal of using university funds for development work for the University Visvesvaraya College of Engineering (UVCE).

The Syndicate members, non-teaching staff and student organisations have voiced their objections to the alleged diversion of funds. "The V-C has been trying to release a total of Rs49 crore for development work for UVCE, which is an autonomous college. The money is coming from a fixed deposit sum reserved for pensions of employees of Bangalore University," Dr Sudhakar H, one of the Syndicate members, told TNIE.

The Syndicate members have accused the V-C of flouting all procedures to release funds. With Venugopal's tenure to end on June 11, Syndicate members have pointed out that he is not allowed to make financial or policy decisions for the university. "According to guidelines, he is not allowed to take decisions on financial matters or policy two months before the end of his term as vice-chancellor," Dr Sudhakar told TNIE. The Syndicate members had approached the bank manager and University's finance officer on Thursday, submitting a memorandum.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

21st May: An energetic Moon is an excellent indication of positive action - hopefully. It's when we look at the other planets that we get a different impression. In my opinion it's the early morning which brings the greatest chance of an argument. If you're still asleep, you'll avoid this planetary glitch altogether.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Today's lunar alignments compel you to turn your attention to routine chores, not an exciting prospect, I'm afraid. Many Ariens may be feeling slightly under the weather, but there's no time like the present for getting in shape for the next few months.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Tomorrow's challenging lunar pattern is already casting its shadow over your affairs, though in the nicest possible way. This will be an optimum weekend for creative expression, cultural events, romantic encounters and happy relationships with children.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Tense planetary aspects will force you to prove just how well-informed, alert and astute you really are. I have every faith that you will rise to the challenge, demonstrating to everyone that they were absolutely right to place their trust and confidence in you.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
You can use your time in no better way than by getting your future plans and arrangements perfectly straight. That may mean seeking expert advice and sitting down and drawing up lists. At the same time, though, this is an emotional phase, and your heart-strings will be tugged.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
All in all, it's a positive period - one when a practical frame of mind helps you through every little problem. At the heart of all financial worries lies a fear of going without. However, if you get to grips with such unconscious fears, you'll manage your money much more efficiently.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
The coming planetary pattern is already indicating a critical turning-point in your affairs. Might I suggest that you fall in with the mood of the times and implement certain much-needed long-term reforms and improvements? Family members will look up to you when you set a more positive example.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Learn to let go and allow others the freedom they seek. The surprising fact is that, if other people are granted their independence, they may choose not to use it. Why don't you trust your instincts for a change, and play around with new solutions to old problems?

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
It's a sociable day. However, it's difficult to know whether social outings will offer an escape from personal complications, or whether intimate encounters will save you from group activities. The best advice is to play it by ear, and not to make your move until you're certain.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
One minor cycle in your life comes to an end this weekend. Both work and family questions will arrive at a satisfactory point and you may use current conditions as a launch pad for future achievements. And remember this - all endings open the way for new beginnings.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Today's planetary picture brings good news for Capricorns, just as long as you refuse to rise to the provocation that is always likely at such times. And any foreign contacts, legal questions and educational aspirations will all benefit from a renewed sense of purpose.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Your financial affairs will reach a turning-point and may never be the same again. If you have any sense, you will consciously steer your situation towards conditions which will guarantee your future prosperity. And, if you do that, then people close to you will also share the benefits.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
The Moon sends challenging signals today. I would therefore advise you to take it one step at a time, enjoying an easy life when possible and rising to the challenge when necessary. At all costs avoid conflict. What it really encourages you to do is tackle practical questions with greater determination.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

Though it was a blind case and the place of offence was not known, the city police gathered information and found out that the incident took place at Kanaka Nagar in Ramamurthy Nagar police limits and cracked the case within three days. In total, 12 people, including a woman, were arrested.

Court rejects bail to two toppers of PSI exam

MG CHETAN @Bengaluru

A CITY court has dismissed the anticipatory bail petitions filed by two toppers of the provisional select list for the post of police sub-inspector.

Rachana Hanamant and Jagrut S, who were summoned for inquiry by the CID which is investigating the PSI recruitment scam, had not turned up for inquiry and have been absconding. The duo had moved an anticipatory bail petition before the 51st Additional City Civil & Sessions court.

Their advocates had submitted that the case of the prosecution is that one Veeresh, who wrote exams in Kalaburagi, was involved in malpractice and cheating, whereas the petitioners appeared for exams in Bengaluru. There is absolutely no connection between Veeresh and the petitioners and hence the question of their involvement in the alleged incident does not arise at all. The examination hall was surrounded by CCTV cameras and there was absolutely no such possibility of malpractice that too under the vigilance of supervisors and squad, the counsels argued.

Objecting to granting of the anticipatory bail, public prosecutor MV Thyagaraja had contended that there are differences in the OMR sheet received at the evaluation centre and its candidate's copy. "Though the investigation agency has issued them notice, they have failed to appear for inquiry. It is a serious offence and the case involves influential people and financial transactions. The whole society is following the developments in the case and the investigation is not yet completed. It is an offence against the state and candidates, who have merit, will lose hope if the petitioners are granted bail," the public prosecutor argued.

After hearing the arguments, judge T Govindaiah dismissed the bail applications on Friday.

Delhi nod unlikely, Cabinet rejig may be pushed further

BANSY KALAPPA @Bengaluru

AN expectant Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai rushed to New Delhi on Friday. The purpose of his visit is three-fold – to get the names cleared for the MLC and Rajya Sabha polls and for the proposed cabinet expansion.

But sources said Bommai may not get the central leaders' approval for a cabinet expansion, even though former chief minister BS Yediyurappa recently said the exercise would happen soon and party national general secretary BL Santhosh hinted that new faces would be inducted. Bommai too had said that he was seeking the central nod for the cabinet rejig. But the cabinet expansion may have to wait for some more time. Some aspirants, like Ramesh Jarkiholi, are already in Delhi, but his inclusion in the cabinet is extremely unlikely, said sources.

On Friday, Bommai, Union Parliamentary Affairs Minister Pralhad Joshi and other senior leaders in Delhi held a meeting to finalise the names of party candidates for the Legislative Council and Rajya Sabha elections.

The first sign that the green signal for the cabinet expansion may not come was that BJP national president JP Nadda was away from Delhi on Friday. Bommai will seek to meet Home Minister Amit Shah on Saturday and may push for the cabinet expansion. But he may not get the nod, the sources said. He had met Shah during the latter's visit to Karnataka recently and had raised the issue then too.

Party insiders pointed out that there is tremendous pressure on Bommai from within the state unit to reshuffle the ministry, even as the list of aspirants is growing. The aspirants are desperate as this could be the last expansion before the state goes to polls in 10 months.

Among those who are likely to make it to the final list of candidates for MLC polls are Arun Shahpur, Hanmanth R Nirani and Ravi Shankar. The party is also expected to announce the candidature of former Council Chairman Basavraj Horatti, who joined BJP from JDS recently. While these names are from the graduates and teachers constituencies, the BJP central leadership is deliberating on the names for the seven Council seats, for which elections will be held on June 3. There has been one round of deliberation and the core committee has decided the names, but will central leaders propose a new list for the Council poll or accept the names proposed by state leaders is the question.

Among those who are likely to figure in the MP list are Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman and former police officer KC Ramurthy, whose terms are ending.

Sources said BJP, which has 120 MLAs, is interested in getting a third candidate elected to the Rajya Sabha with the support of JDS, as they need 46 votes per seat and they may not have the required numbers for the third seat on their own for the RS polls scheduled for June 10.

33% quota for women in outsourced govt jobs

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

IN a significant move, the state government has reserved 33 per cent for outsourced women employees in all the departments. Chief Secretary P Ravikumar issued a circular in this regard on on Friday.

At present, out of 7.2 lakh sanctioned posts in Karnataka with 4.6 lakh employees, there are 1.5 lakh outsourced staff. So now, at 50,000 posts will be reserved for women employees.

According to the circular, the state government recruits drivers, data entry operators, housekeeping staff and other group D employees through outsourcing. At present, to give more opportunities to women, there is 30 per cent reservation in direct recruitment under the Karnataka Civil Service.

The circular also said that women can do equally good work even in outsourced jobs. Therefore, all government jobs and services through outsourcing should have 33 per cent reservation for women. Officials concerned should mention the same in the tender seeking outsourced employees. The same should also be included in the memorandum of understanding with private agencies while recruiting outsourced staff.

The 33 per cent reservation is applicable for all autonomous bodies, universities, urban local bodies and other government offices. Senior officials should ensure that it is implemented without any hurdle.

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai chairs an SC, ST meeting on Friday | NAGARAJA GADEKAL

THE Karnataka government's ambitious programmes should be implemented before August, and grants made for the welfare of SC, ST communities should be spent only on these communities, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai instructed officials at the SC, ST State Development Council meeting.

He asked officials to ensure that the Rs 1600-cr deposit in bank accounts of various Boards and Corporations under the Social Welfare department is spent within the next three months on Scheduled Caste Sub Plan (SCSP) for Scheduled Castes and Tribal Sub-Plan (TSP) for Scheduled Tribes schemes, excluding the Ganga Kalyana scheme. If not, the funds would be reallocated to programmes announced this year, Bommai said.

The SC, ST Development Council meeting chaired by the Chief Minister approved the SCSP/TSP action plan for the year 2022-23 on Friday. Welfare programmes worth over Rs 28,000 crore were cleared. In fact, budgetary allocation had already been done and the Council's approval to distribute funds was only a formality.

Addressing the meeting, Bommai said stringent measures should be taken to start implementation of SCSP and TSP programmes in Education, Health, Nutrition and Women's Welfare before August 15.

He told reporters that the meeting took stock of the utilisation of allocations last year and funds remaining unspent. Some programmes were cleared with some modifications and most were approved without any changes.

The amount reserved for pensions in the Revenue department was raised to Rs 3,748cr from Rs 2,900cr. A sum of Rs 20cr was allocated for development of places visited by Dr BR Ambedkar in the state. It was decided to issue free bus passes for SC, ST community students, Bommai said.

SC for level playing field

The court said it would be expedient to obtain an opinion from the Oversight Authority appointed by the top court on April 21, 2022 about the issue relating to the lifting of the ceiling limit for production of iron ore for mining leases in the three districts. "We request the Oversight Authority to take inputs from the stakeholders, including the CEC and the Monitoring Committee, and to send his opinion to this Court preferably within a period of 4 weeks," it added. The top court said it is in broad agreement with the stand taken by the Ministry of Steel and Ministry of Mines that it is necessary to create a level playing field for the mines situated in the three districts with others in the rest of the country.

Mines body welcomes lifting of curbs on ore

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Chitradurga

THE Federation of Indian Mineral Industries (FIMI)-Southern Region on Friday welcomed the decision of Supreme Court on lifting curbs on the sale and export of iron ore in Karnataka.

Speaking to TNIE, HM Khayum Ali, Director FIMI-Southern Region, said the top court's decision to allow sale and export of iron ore has come as a big relief to the miners.

"We were trying since a year to get the ban on sale of iron ore lifted. Also, due to the ban on export of the mineral, we had to sell it at a lesser price, which resulted in loss to mining companies. After SC's decision, we can now sell it in open market, he added.

Ali said the production of iron ore stood at 43 million metric tonnes in Karnataka whereas the demand from the industry was only 37 million metric tonnes. This resulted in excess unused minerals to the tune of five million metric tonnes per year and now with the lifting of the ban, the miners can sell it to buyers in India as well abroad.

"There was no free market and iron ore used to be sold through e-auction committee. Now we are at par with other states as far as iron ore export is concerned", Ali said. "No illegal activities can take place due to a transparent system in place in the state and our mining extraction and transport system are the best in the country", he claimed. The apex court allowed the mine operators to sell the already excavated iron ore by entering into direct contracts without resorting to e-auction.

A bench comprising Chief Justice of India NV Ramana, Justice Krishna Murari and Justice Hima Kohli passed the order on applications filed by mine operators seeking lifting of the curbs, imposed in 2011, following of rampant violations of the rules.

Shobha blames states for failing to utilise agri infra funds

MYSURU: Union Minister for Agriculture and Farmers Welfare Shobha Karandlaje held state governments responsible for failing to utilise the Rs 1 lakh crore allocated for agriculture infrastructure development in the country.

She said state governments have failed to prepare district plans, list basic infrastructure requirements like cold storage and other facilities, and submit the proposal to the Centre on time to use the funds for setting up such units and also avail loans with subsidised interest.

Speaking to the media persons here on Friday, she said the Centre has also advised states to come out with 'one district-one product' plan that will help tap the potential and make use of the funds.

She said states having separate ministries for agriculture, horticulture, fisheries, sugar and sericulture is also the reason for the delay.

"I have suggested to Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai to bring both agriculture and horticulture departments under one ministry that would cut red tape," she added. ENS

Joshi to broker truce between 'miffed' leaders

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Belagavi

AMID speculations over trouble brewing in the BJP, especially in North Karnataka ahead of the MLC elections, Union Minister Pralhad Joshi has convened a meeting with senior party leaders in Belagavi on Saturday. It is believed to be an attempt to iron out the differences and bring all together.

The fissures within the party became evident with several key leaders skipping the recent meeting organised in connection with the elections. The party is keen to broker a truce considering the clout these leaders enjoy that can make or mar the prospects of the party, which the high command is not ready to afford.

However, it is doubtful whether MLA Basangouda Patil Yatnal and the Jarkiholi brothers will attend Joshi's meeting in Belagavi. The scepticism stems from the recent developments where Yatnal had berated Industries Minister Murugesh Nirani, brother of Hanumant Nirani.

However, brushing aside any such possibilities, Nirani said, "There may be some differences at personal level (between Nirani and Yatnal), but there is nothing serious between us politically."

BJP leader urges PM to repeal Places of Worship Act

ENS@Mysuru

FORMER MLC and BJP leader G Madhusudhan has appealed to Prime Minister Narendra Modi to repeal or amend the Places of Worship Act, 1991, passed by the then Rajiv Gandhi government.

He said that issue of Ayodhya was resolved and expressed confidence on getting the matter related Mathura and other religious places resolved.

Explaining the Act, K V Dhananjay, advocate, Supreme Court, said it has a two-fold purpose. First, to ensure that a religious place of worship which existed as on August 15, 1947, remains that way and is not converted to a place of worship of a different religion. Second, where the status of a place of worship on 15 August, 1947, is not know, then whatever is the status at the relevant time, it should continue that way.

"So, the Hindu petitioners in both the Varanasi Gyanvapi Masjid case and the Mathura Shahi Idgah Mosque case are legally bound to reach a dead end and lose their cases. Though the Places of Worship (Special Provisions) Act, 1991, is a parliamentary legislation and the BJP commands sufficient majority in the Parliament to repeal it, this is unlikely to change the status quo. This is because the Supreme Court in the Babri Masjid – Ram Janmabhoomi dispute has unanimously held that the purpose of the Places of Worship Act is tied to the secular fabric of the Constitution. Hence, repealing that law will not at all help those who wish to convert a place of worship of one religion into that of a different religion," he said.

Helpline buzzes with distress calls

SHILPA P @ Bengaluru

THE psychosocial support helpline for tele-counselling SSLC students buzzed with calls from children and parents, in the wake of exam results on Thursday. The helpline received 518 calls, including 458 calls on Thursday alone, according to Dr Rajani, Deputy Director, Mental Health, Department of health and family welfare.

The helpline was set up by the health department in association with Nimhans on Wednesday evening, a day before exam results were out.

Dr Rajani, a psychiatrist, told TNIE, "Before the SSLC results were announced, calls from kids and parents were related to stress, sleeplessness, fear and worry. Some were about behavioral changes in kids, including locking themselves in rooms, and running away from family and relatives. Students were worried about their status in society in case they scored low or didn't get the expected marks, and some were related to triggering of pre-existing mental health issues." After the SSLC results were announced on Thursday, students called to say they were unable to accept their results and had expected more marks. VILLAGERS FORM HUMAN CHAIN, RESCUE 4 IN GADAG

Their loud cries and a stranded car attracted the villagers' attention

RAGHOTTAM KOPPAR @ Gadag

IN a dramatic rescue operation, villagers and the police pulled out four people to safety after their car got stuck in the middle of a gushing stream near Nelugal village of Lakshmeshwar in Gadag district on Thursday night.

It was a night and rain had picked up pace since Thursday afternoon. The four friends who were travelling in the car had no idea that the stream had such force and waded through. When they were in the middle of the bridge, they got stuck as water was flowing over the canal. After waiting for a few minutes, they got down from the vehicle, but soon started getting washed away in the flood. Three of them got hold of a tree, while the other climbed on top of a rock in the middle of the stream.

Their loud cries for help and the unmoving car in the middle of the bridge with headlights on attracted the attention of villagers. They called up the police, other villagers and gathered near the stream in large numbers. The police planned a human chain and expert swimmers led the people to rescue the stranded passengers.

Two swimmers managed to reach the tree and brought three stranded people to safety, while another team rescued the lone person who was sitting on top of the rock.

"It is a new lease of life and we thank everyone who saved us," said the rescued. Dr Prabhu Mansoor, Basavanagouda Tegginmani, Veeresh Dambal and Chennaveergouda Patil, all aged 40 and residents of Hebbal village near Shirahatti, are the rescued. They were returning from Nelugal village. Soon after the rescue operation, the car got washed away and was stuck near the retaining wall of the stream.

"We saw the car stranded over the bridge. When we heard screams, we informed the police and other villagers. As the car was being washed away, the passengers started getting down, but they could not come out as the stream was flowing at high speeds. We decided to form a human chain and rescued them," said a villager from Nelugal.

Heroin worth ₹1,500cr seized from 2 TN boats

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kochi

IN a major drug haul, the Directorate of Revenue Intelligence (DRI) along with the Indian Coast Guard (ICG), intercepted two fishing boats near Agatti in Lakshadweep sea and seized 218 kg of heroin worth Rs 1,526 crore in the international market. The boats, "Prince" and "Little Jesus", registered in Tamil Nadu were seized on Wednesday and were brought to the Coast Guard District Headquarters in Kochi. As per preliminary information, there were 20 fisherfolk in the boats, who were natives of Tamil Nadu and Kerala.

The DRI had received intelligence input about transportation of huge consignment of heroin to Tamil Nadu coast by fishing boats and were maintaining a tight vigil for the past few months. The information hinted that the consignment will be received in the Arabian sea by the second of third week of May.

The DRI launched a joint operation along with the ICG codename "Operation Khojbeen" on May 7. Coast Guard ship "Sujeet", with DRI officials on board, maintained a close watch near the Exclusive Economic Zone. After several days of continuous search and monitoring, two fishing boats were intercepted by the officers on May 18, off the coast of Lakshadweep Islands.

The crew members, on interrogation, confessed that they had received huge consignment on high sea and have concealed it in the boat's chambers. Upon searching, 218 packets, containing 1 kg of heroin each, were confiscated. Although the authorities refused to reveal more details, there are indications that the consignment might have been shipped from Pakistan. This is the fourth major drug bust by DRI over the last one month. Since April 2021, DRI has seized more than 3,800 kg of heroin worth approximately Rs 26,000 crore.

Woman mowed down for refusing to pay ₹200

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Guntur

IN a tragic incident, a 40-year-old woman fell under a lorry, while trying to save her daughter, who was in the truck, when the driver drove the vehicle after she refused to pay Rs 200. The incident happened in Guntur on Friday.

According to the police, Ramana (40), a resident of Chilakaluripet, worked as a rag picker. On Friday she boarded a lorry along with her two daughters, one aged 10 and another 12, to go to Guntur from Chilakaluripet.

She got off from the lorry at the Jindal plant in Naidupet and paid the driver Rs 100. The lorry driver demanded her to pay an extra Rs 200. Though Ramana pleaded with him that she doesn't have enough money, ignoring her the driver took her mobile phone and started to leave.

Seeing this, her younger daughter climbed the lorry. Ramana also tried to get into the vehicle, but by that time, the driver had started the vehicle and she was left hanging and fell, coming under the wheels. She died on the spot. The driver fled leaving the children on the road. When passers by noticed the children crying and a body in a pool of blood, they alerted the police. Nallapadu police rushed to the spot and shifted the body to GGH for autopsy.

When contacted by TNIE, Nallapadu DSP Jessy Prashanti said a case has been registered under Sec 304 part 2.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mysuru

THE Biligiri Ranga Hills with a high density of wildlife have thrilled the local and nature lovers with an elusive black leopard that has been spotted after two years. The image of a black leopard has been recorded in a camera trap set up by wildlife scientists Sanjay Gubbi. Although, the black leopard was sighted in Kakanakote forest in Nagarhole National Park it became viral on social media and also attracted wildlife lovers and the public to the national park.

However, the black leopard has been captured in a camera after 2020 in P G Palya forest range, has been again spotted in the Byallur forest range stunning nature lovers. The six-year-old male leopard has been identified from the butterfly pattern.

The black leopards are the highest sighted in Kalai forest other than Nagarhole, Bandipur, M M Hills, Badra, and BRT. FIFA FOOTBALL FOR SCHOOL

KISS to Become Knowledge, Logistical Hub of FIFA's 'Football For School' Initiative

The worldwide football governing body FIFA has decided to give a further boost to its ties with Kalinga Institute of Social Sciences (KISS) Bhubaneswar and strengthen cooperation in the 'Football for School' programme in Odisha, besides exploring opportunities to expand it across India and South Asia.

A letter of intent has been signed in this regard between Youri Djorkaeff, CEO of the FIFA Foundation, and Dr. Achyuta Samanta, Founder of KISS. The document broadly sets out terms for both entities to commit to investigating avenues of opportunity together – particularly concerning the extension of the Football for Schools programme, which is already active across ten FIFA Member Associations, said a statement FIFA has selected KISS as the nodal agency for the promotion of football as it was encouraged by Odisha Chief Minister Naveen Patnaik's big emphasis on promoting sports and sporting activities in the State, the FIFA CEO said during the signing-in ceremony.

In October last year, KISS announced the launch of India's first-ever FIFA Football for School Programme in association with FIFA. The latest development seeks to take the engagement between FIFA and KISS, a KIIT constituent, to a new level. According to the letter, KISS will act as knowledge hubs for Football for Schools training, and logistical hubs for Football for Schools balls distribution.

Speaking at the occasion, Mr. Djorkaeff said: "It is with great pride and excitement that today we sign this letter of intent with the Kalinga Institute of Social Sciences. FIFA Foundation's Football for Schools programme was launched to positively impact the lives of 700 million children.

"We are delighted today to officialise our collaboration with the FIFA Foundation, and we are looking forward to working alongside our colleagues to develop the Football for Schools programme in Odisha, as well as being able to investigate together many other development opportunities across South Asia.

"Football is the global game, and we have already seen the power it has tounite, inspire, and educate in every corner of the world through the work already done by this programme. I am certain the collaboration we have set in motion today with help enhance that further still and I welcome the opportunities it will undoubtedly bring to millions of children across the region," Dr. Samanta said in his reaction. Dr. Samanta praised Chief Minister Shri Patnaik for promoting sports in a big way in the State and being a constant source of encouragement for all sportspersons. On the other hand, Football aficionados and lovers of the game have welcomed the FIFA-KISS latest initiative and congratulated Dr. Samanta for the collaboration.

"The programme is on its way to achieving that goal and is active in South America, Africa, East Asia, the Caribbean, and the Arab world. The partnership we are officialising here today is the next step on the journey in India and South Asia. I look forward to many wonderful projects – delivered with the aid of our new partners at KISS – over the coming years."

KISS is the world's largest fully free residential school and university for indigenous children, with 30,000 residential students and 30,000 studying on satellite campuses. It has already provided a platform for many sportspersons with state-of-the-art facilities and has successfully produced the highest number of Olympians in Indian sports.

Swiss Member of Parliament Dr. Niklaus Samuel Gugger is the Global Ambassador of KISS.

IN UDAIPUR, CONGRESS IGNORES ELEPHANT IN THE ROOM

The Nav Sankalp Shivir of the Congress at Udaipur saw the party resolving to bring in sweeping changes in its organisational structure, besides adopting a slew of proposals aimed at reconnecting with the masses. There were committees set up to look at key areas, including economy, agriculture, social justice and the security situation. The party's disappointment with the government on these counts was highlighted; suggestions were made on how to revive the economy and help the farming community and weaker sections.

The top leaders of the Congress gathered in the city of lakes and had wide-ranging discussions on issues relating to politics, governance and challenges facing the party. They, however, conveniently ignored the elephant in the room. There was no discussion on accountability of the Gandhi family and the coterie surrounding them. There was also no talk of the mass desertion of promising young leaders and the party's stunning electoral reverses. Under Rahul Gandhi's leadership, the Congress strength in Lok Sabha was reduced to its lowest since Independence. And in Uttar Pradesh, the largest state in the country by far, the party managed to win a paltry 2% of the vote under the leadership of Priyanka Gandhi Vadra in the recent Assembly elections. Almost all young leaders who had worked closely with the Gandhis in top party positions have lost confidence in them and moved to greener pastures. Among them are second-generation Congress leaders such as Jyotiraditya Scindia, R P N Singh, Jitin Prasada and Sushmita Dev. The importance these leaders enjoyed in the party was second only to the Gandhis. But they realised that there was no hope of the Congress returning to power under the leadership of the family. No one in the party raised these issues at the Udaipur Chintan Shivir.

All the noble intentions of the Congress and the promises it has made to the people of the country in its Udaipur Declaration would translate into action only if the party comes to power. Not many in the Congress believe that the Gandhi family is capable of defeating PM Modi. Udaipur was a missed opportunity to take up this big issue.

DEBT-RIDDEN T'GANA NEEDS ELBOW ROOM

Telangana is crying foul over the new diktat that it cannot go in for market borrowings this year. The squeeze from the Centre came at a time when the state was hoping to raise ₹53,000 crore this fiscal through this route. The new regulation would badly hurt the state's financial planning with elections just one-and-a-half years away.

The Telangana government has taken strong objection to the Centre's attempts to show that the state was exceeding its limit, by bringing off-budget loans under the Fiscal Responsibility and Budget Management (FRBM) ceiling. The state experienced the first body-blow when the RBI denied permission to auction its securities to raise ₹2,000 crore recently. Adding insult to injury, the Power Finance Corporation Ltd (PFC) and Rural Electrification Corporation Ltd (REC) have told the state bluntly that they have kept on hold the release of balance loan amounts, which add up to ₹23,729 crore unless the RBI gives its clearance.

Now, the age-old debate rages once again over whether it is prudent for one to bite more than they can chew. The state's cumulative public debt is expected to be a whopping ₹3.23 lakh crore at the end of this fiscal, which includes market borrowings, loans from autonomous bodies and special securities. This accounts for 25% of the state's GSDP.

The Centre's decision may be a step in the right direction but screwing on the cap too tightly gives rise to suspicion over whether it has any political axe to grind. Though loans are essential for the creation of assets, more often than not, states tend to use the money to indulge in profligate spending and funding populist schemes, as is the case in Telangana. The state too should realise that debt servicing by raising more debts is bad economic management and may lead to recession. While Telangana should learn to cut the coat according to the cloth, the Centre also should allow some elbow room for the state to prevent it from suffocating.

We live in a time of volatility, uncertainty, complexity and ambiguity. So a company needs to have the ability to handle chaos

BUILDING SUSTAINABLE ORGANISATIONS

ASHOKE K MAITRA

Founder, Sri Ramakrishna International Institute of Management

SOUMYADIP SINHA

Creating a sustainable company is possible—companies like Colgate, Apple, Britannia and many others have demonstrated it. In fact, many of these big companies are still growing.

And it isn't just the top companies; even NGOs like Ramakrishna Mission, Save the Children and Oxfam have withstood the perils of time and are still growing.

The issue is not whether a company is private, public or an NGO. The crux of the matter is to create a sustainable organisation. Decision is destiny. To paint every company or NGO with the same brush is undesirable.

There is a general feeling that all public sector companies are unprofitable and that they need to be sold. However, this notion is far from reality. Companies like Coal India Ltd., BPCL, HPCL, Indian Oil Ltd. and State Bank of India are very profitable and perhaps the best stocks to get hold of to reap a good dividend.

The problem lies in the fact that politicians occupy the roles of trade union leaders and then force the management to take excess people to have a larger vote bank. Even if these companies want to get rid of unproductive workers, they are not allowed to do so. If they were able to, they would perhaps be more profitable.

But it boils down to why some companies remain profitable and sustainable and why others are vulnerable to change and uncertainty.

For over 30 years, I have been researching and working in the domain of Organisation Development and Change Management around the world. My primary research of 52 companies led me to identify some common themes.

Firstly, a company needs to have the ability to handle chaos. We live in a VUCA time—this is volatility, uncertainty, complexity and ambiguity. And VUCA is only slated to increase if the first-world countries continue to ruin the Earth in the pursuit of luxury. Essentially, there is very little genuine inclination to reduce climate change and help save the Earth. But there are companies and NGOs who have survived this chaos and grown—they were more responsible in their practices and knew how to manoeuvre their way without panicking. And they were able to do this only because they had a system in place to mitigate the impact of the chaos. But there were also companies who did not follow any of this—of course, they headed southward.

Secondly, companies need a vision and strategy. In Jim Collin's famous book Built to Last, he points out that companies that become sustainable have a very strong vision—they defined how they wanted to be seen and what their purpose was. For example, Toyota's vision is to be the biggest and best car company in the world. Another example is J R D Tata—he started 94 companies, but still created wealth for the country because he defined his organisation's vision as one that serves the nation.

> A great work culture is needed to make employees feel engaged. As a management consultant, I have found that many companies do not engage employees in generating ideas to improve the organisation. In a large media company, journalists were unhappy with the annual increments. I involved them in a new performance appraisal system and they accepted it

Thirdly, companies need to focus on building future leaders. The most successful and sustainable companies go to college campuses every year and hire the brightest students—they then groom these freshers to become leaders. In most cases, 50% of these new recruits leave the company, but the commitment of these firms to train future leaders never wanes. Family businesses on the other hand are slightly more skeptical of doing this, but those that follow this become sustainable. And this commitment should be there even in tough times: TCS recruited one lakh engineers during the pandemic. Asian Paints, HUL, NDA, IAS, IPS, etc., every year select bright new talent and grow them. No police commissioner, General in the Army or municipal commissioner is recruited from outside. The prime minister has also been inducting talented individuals from the bureaucracy for the post of ministers.

Fourthly, a great work culture is needed to make employees have job security and also feel engaged in the development of the company. A scientific performance review, rewards and recognitions and a decent salary make the employee feel secure.

Carl Rogers spoke about the need of every human being to grow and prosper—this differentiates humans from other animals. As a management consultant, I have found that many companies do not engage employees in generating ideas to improve the organisation.

Last year, we helped a manufacturing company generate ideas for cost reduction and it saved ₹9 crore. Similarly, we used design thinking in a consumer product company to generate customer-centric products—this increased their profits exponentially. In a large media company, journalists were unhappy with the annual increments—they returned their increment letters to the chairman. I involved them in a new performance appraisal system; they accepted it and the concept is still thriving. Even some large newspaper companies in the US have adopted this system. Ultimately, the intention should be to use all these techniques to create a sustainable organisation.

THE GREAT CHOLAS THROUGH THE AGES

NANDITHA KRISHNA

Historian, environmentalist and writer based in Chennai

Our history textbooks are full of stories of royal sons killing fathers, brothers killing each other, murder and destruction. This is the history of Delhi, of many of the Sultans and Mughals. But elsewhere in India, there were great rulers who behaved with more honour and dignity and about whom we do not know much. One such dynasty was the Cholas, one of the longest ruling in the world, who were mentioned by Ashoka in the third century BCE.

The Grand Anicut or Kallanai was built by Karikala Chola between 100 BCE and 100 CE in Thanjavur District, and is one of the oldest water-regulatory structures in the world. It is a massive dam of unhewn stone across the Kaveri. A later Chola record from Tiruvaduturai refers to this construction as raising the banks of the Kaveri by Parakesari Karikala Chola. It was recently recognised as a World Heritage Irrigation Structure.

The famous seaport Kaveripattinam or Puhar was also built by Karikala. Apart from excellent maritime facilities, the port had facilities like stevedoring, customs clearance, storehouses, money exchange and so on. Horses were imported by sea in Puhar. Its greatness is testified to by Periplus of the Erythraean Sea, Ptolemy's Geography, Pattinapalai and Silappadikaram. There were lighthouses for night navigation.

In the 10th century, after his elder brother and crown prince Adithya Karikala was assassinated and his father died, Chola prince Arulmozhivarman did not ascend the throne. His uncle was crowned instead. It was only after his uncle Uttama Chola's death in 985 CE that Arulmozhi became the king and was given the title Rajaraja I or 'King of Kings'. This was a very noble deed at a time when people were killing each other to become the king. Rajaraja built the great temple with a tall vimana or tower in Thanjavur. It is one of the greatest monuments of India.

His son Rajendra Chola was declared heir apparent and formally associated with his father in the administration of the Chola Empire in the final years of Rajaraja. When Rajaraja died in 1014, Rajendra was crowned king. He was a great warrior and conquered the Rashtrakutas and the Western Chalukyas. With the Cholas' powerful maritime fleet, Rajendra conquered Southeast Asia. In 1017, his navy captured a major part of Sri Lanka. In 1018, he conquered the Pandya and Chera territories and captured the islands of Maladvipa (Maldives), Lakshadweep and Manakkavaram (Nicobar). In 1019, he defeated the rulers of Odisha, Bihar and Bengal and captured north Karnataka and southern Maharashtra. He is said to have been welcomed by the local people for he brought good rule and administration.

From Chhattisgarh, he split his forces into two and sent one towards the Ganges in the north and the other to the northwest. Few people are aware that Rajendra Chola sent his army to assist his friend Paramara Bhoja of Malwa in Madhya Pradesh, which would likely have been to fight the invasion of Mahmud Ghazni and relieve the kingdoms that had fallen victim to the invasions. An inscription from Kulenur in Karnataka confirms that there was an alliance between Bhoja of Malwa, Rajendra Chola and Gangeya of Kalachuria.

> Rajendra was possibly India's greatest conqueror. He used his navy to great effect to conquer lands outside India. ... The Agramandira class of ships, with cabins fitted towards the prows, were used in naval warfare. They were long, thin and of high speed. Chola inscriptions indicate that troops were transported by ships for battle at sea and on land

In 1025, he invaded Burma, Thailand, Malaysia, Indonesia, Cambodia and Vietnam with his navy. He defeated the Sri Vijaya kings of Indonesia and was hailed as Kadarakonda Cholan (Malaysia was known as Kadaram). The Bay of Bengal came under his total control.

Rajendra Chola did not destroy cities. Instead, he asked each king of the Gangetic region to bring a pot of Ganga water to his capital Gangaikonda Cholapuram near Thanjavur, and built the Chola Ganga Tank to hold the sacred water. He also built a beautiful temple at Gangaikonda Cholapuram in honour of Siva. Here his humility is outstanding: he made this temple shorter than the one at Thanjavur out of respect for his father. His descendant Rajaraja II built the Airavateshwara temple at Darasuram. All the Chola kings built several beautiful temples in and around Thanjavur.

Rajendra was possibly the greatest conqueror in India. He used his navy to great effect to conquer lands outside India. Unfortunately, not much is known about shipbuilding in ancient India, except from the Yuktikalpataru (c. 12th century). The Agramandira class of ships, with cabins fitted towards the prows, were used in naval warfare. They were long, thin and of high speed. Chola inscriptions indicate that troops were transported by ships for battle at sea and on land. Periplus of the Erythraean Sea (first century CE) mentions three kinds of craft used in the south: light boats for local traffic, larger vessels of greater carrying capacity and huge ocean-going vessels for transporting goods, horses and men. Ships were built out of timber—blackwood, mango, khadira, silk cotton, cedar or teak. The planks of the hull were stitched together with palm fibre. The ship was navigated with a mast. Square or semi-rectangular sails were used, as depicted in the Ajanta paintings. Pirate ships also sailed the seas and a strong navy was essential to ward them off.

The Cholas brought in a single, centralised government for their empire. They had a well-planned army consisting of elephants, cavalry, infantry and navy. Land revenue and trade tax were their main sources of revenue and they issued coins in gold, silver and copper. They maintained hospitals for their people. The merchants organised themselves into guilds both in India and abroad and traded as far as China. The art and architecture of the Cholas, especially stone and bronze sculpture, is incomparable. The dynasty gradually declined in the thirteenth century, although one branch was still ruling over the Philippines till 1565. It is necessary to teach every Indian about the great Cholas who once ruled over land and sea.

Calling a spade a spade

This is with reference to two recent Supreme Court decisions. The top court's observations on the GST Council's decisions will please the Telangana regime. But the SC's decision in the encounter case, where it rejected the Telangana government's request to keep the inquiry report in a sealed cover, will be unpalatable to the state's rulers. This shows that our judiciary has no reservations in calling a spade a spade.

Tragic deaths in Kerala

This is with reference to the news report Cops electrocuted in trap set for wild boars (May 20). The deaths of the two officers from the Kerala Armed Police camp in Muttikulangara is tragic. Wild boar attacks on crops of all kinds is common in Wayanad and some other parts of the state, and the government is yet to come up with a definite solution for the menace. Therefore, farmers resort to their own ways to prevent the wild animals from attacking paddy, banana, yam, tapioca, etc.

CBI officer's revelation

While Perarivalan's release from jail after 31 years in connection with the Rajiv Gandhi assassination case has naturally drawn varied opinions, many have ignored the confessions of a Central Bureau of Investigation official in 2013, who made a shocking revelation that he had failed to record Perarivalan's statement verbatim. He had added that Perarivalan had no knowledge about the conspiracy. Sadly, the CBI officer's revelation did not have the kind of impact it ought to have had.

R Sivakumar, Chennai

Celebrations depressing

The release of Perarivalan by the top court on certain technical grounds led to celebrations by way of distribution of sweets and bursting of crackers in Tamil Nadu. This gave the impression that he was acquitted since the charges were false and that he fought for a great and noble social cause. It was depressing to see how parties vied with one another in greeting him. To cap it all, the state's chief minister personally received him with a warm hug. Where are we heading?

The right decision

The release of Perarivalan has led to many discussions, some supporting the court verdict and some against it. However, one thing that not many are talking about is the extent of his involvement in the murder and the length of the life term. Considering the fact that he was arrested at the young age of 19, close to being a minor, and that he was not directly involved in the suicide attack that led to the death of the former prime minister, 31 years in jail seems to do justice. The honourable Supreme Court has rightly acted where the Governor and the President did not.

PM seeks to put full stop on Hindi imposition issue

Modi lauds government's achievements, condemns family-centric parties at Jaipur

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR
@ New Delhi

THE recent clamour across the country over the imposition of Hindi language seemed to have found its way into the BJP's Chintan Shivir in Jaipur on Friday, with Prime Minister Narendra Modi seeking to mitigate the longstanding issue. The prime minister reiterated the government's commitments towards each regional language of India under the New Education Policy. "BJP considers all Indian languages as the linguistic soul of 'Bhartiyata' (Indianness) and a link to a better future of the nation," Modi said, while virtually addressing the party's national office-bearers.

Cautioning against attempts made by some to spark controversies in the country over the language issue, the PM said that the BJP sees a reflection of Indian linguistic culture in each regional language, and considers them worth adoration. The PM's statement comes after the language issue became a point of clamor on the social media, with leading actors such as Ajay Devgn and Kiccha Sudeep getting involved in arguments.

In his speech, Modi also attacked family-centric politics, saying some parties have always survived for the sake of 'parivaar' (family), posing a threat to the country's democracy. "The BJP is continuously fighting against these family-centric parties. If democracy is to be saved, democracy is to be made capable and value-oriented, then we have to fight relentlessly against the politics of dynasty," he said.

Describing the eight years of the BJP-led NDA government at the Centre dedicated, Modi said that the period is marked with balanced development, social justice and social security.

"The NDA government is dedicated to service, good governance and welfare of the poor coming true to the expectations of the famers, and the poor people," the PM said.

"The BJP-led government post-2014 has succeeded in restoring the people's faith in the government, its systems and its delivery mechanism, that were almost lost during the previous non-BJP government," he said, adding that just as the world now looks at India with great expectations, the people of the country are looking at the BJP with trust for a new India.

Modi exhorts partymen to fix goals for 25 yrs

NEW DELHI: Noting that the 75th year of Independence, is being observed by the government as 'Azadi ka Amrit Utsav, PM Narendra Modi said the country is setting itself the goals for the next 25 years and added that this is also the time for the BJP to fix its goals for the next 25 years and work for them. This prompted an attack from Rajasthan CM Ashok Gehlot who said, "In a democracy, no one can predict future. What will be the mood of the public tomorrow, no one can tell. This shows his arrogance and people will give a reply when the time comes."

We have been seeing how the ecosystem of some parties, is trying with their full strength to distract the country's attention from its main issues. We never have to fall in the trap of these parties

RBI permits trade transactions with Sri Lanka in INR

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

KEEPING in view the difficulties being experienced by exporters in receiving proceeds from Sri Lanka, the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) has allowed trade transactions with the island country to be settled in Indian Rupees (INR), outside the Asian Clearing Union (ACU) mechanism.

The settlement of transactions in INR is under an arrangement whereby the Indian government guaranteed a term loan of $1 billion extended by the State Bank of India to Sri Lanka (via a credit facility agreement dated March 17, 2022) for financing purchase of essential goods and services, such as food, medicines, fuel and industrial raw material.

Under the arrangement, financing of export of eligible goods and services from India, as defined under the agreement, would be allowed subject to their being eligible for export under the Indian Foreign Trade Policy and whose purchase may be agreed to be financed by SBI under this agreement.

RBI said these instructions come into force with immediate effect. The credit facility under the agreement is available for draw-down up to 12 months from the signing date of agreement, that is, March 16, 2023.

The ACU was established, with its headquarters at Tehran, Iran, on Dec. 9, 1974 at the initiative of the United Nations Economic and Social Commission for Asia and Pacific for promoting regional co-operation. The main objective of the agency is to facilitate payments among member countries for eligible transactions on a multilateral basis, thereby economising on the use of foreign exchange reserves and transfer costs, as well as promoting trade among the participating countries.

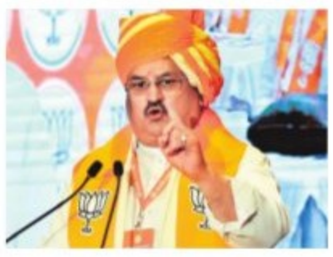
'MESSIAH OF POOR'

BJP cadre to go door-to-door to meet 100 crore govt scheme beneficiaries

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

THE Bharatiya Janata Party's leaders will soon be seen campaigning in various districts to highlight the government's schemes to over 100 crore beneficiaries. This was among the slew of steps discussed as part of the party's poll strategy on the second day of its three-day Chintan Shivir in Jaipur. It came to fore that the party plans to fight the upcoming Assembly elections in 2022 and 2023 mainly based on the PM's face and the central government programmes.

While the BJP is finalising the strategy for all 11 states going to polls over the next two years, Rajasthan remains a focus and a special session has been assigned for discussions on the state. The main challenge for the party here is to bridge the rift between its leaders.



On Friday, about 130 officials discussed party issues in four sessions held in the presence of national party president JP Nadda. The BJP passed a resolution asking Union ministers and party workers to go door to door to contact the beneficiaries of central schemes over the past eight years. The Modi's government completes eight years in power on May 30.

Talking to the media, BJP national general secretary Vinod Tawde said, "Our government has done a lot of work for farmers during the past eight years. Money has reached people through the direct benefit scheme. Now the ministers will travel to various places to meet the beneficiaries of the schemes. The dialogue will begin about how this government is the messiah of the poor."

A special strategy is also being prepared to ensure that the BJP forms the next government in Rajasthan. BJP national secretary Alka Gurjar presented a proposal on exposing the failures of the Ashok Gehlot government. Attacking it, Nadda said, "Rajasthan is Dharma Bhoomi and Karma Bhoomi but there is misgovernance in the state government. The BJP is working to expose its black deeds."

Prashant Kishor predicts Cong rout in Gujarat, HP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

CONTINUING to train his guns on the Congress, poll strategist Prashant Kishor, who was in talks to join the party, on Friday said that the party's 'Chintan Shivir' at Udaipur was a failure. He predicted an impending electoral rout for the grand old party in the upcoming Gujarat and Himachal Pradesh elections.

"I've been asked to comment on the outcome of Udaipur Chintan Shivir. In my view, it failed to achieve anything meaningful other than prolonging the status-quo and giving some time to the Congress leadership, at least till the impending electoral rout in Gujarat and HP," Kishor said.

His comments come after the Congress said that the Udaipur session will put the party on path of revival. However, it failed to take any decision on leaderships issues, citing that the process to elect a new chief is on.

Ahead of the event, talks between the Congress and Kishor failed after he demanded autonomy to resurrect the party. Congress instead constituted an 'Empowered Action Group' and that made Kishor withdraw from the deal, saying it would only add another layer to its internal fissures. Some of the reform measures adopted at Udaipur were part of Kishor's presentation. However, the proposal for a parliamentary board, a key demand of a G23 ginger group within the party, was shot down and they decided to have a political affairs committee in every state and the Centre.

THE cases Former Bihar chief minister Lalu Prasad Yadav is in CBI's crosshairs again. The investigating agency on Friday carried out raids and searches at 16 premises linked to Lalu and his wife Rabri Devi at Patna and Gopalganj in Bihar and their daughter Misa Bharti in New Delhi in connection with a fresh case registered against them for taking land in lieu of providing jobs.

The Economic Offences wing of the CBI had registered a case against Lalu, his family members and others on May 18 for allegedly taking over 1,05,292 sq ft land in Patna from candidates in return for group D jobs in Railways during 2004-09, when he was Union Railway Minister.

Apart from Lalu and Rabri, two of their daughters, Misa and Hema, have been named as accused in the case, in addition to 12 people who were given jobs in Railway zones of Mumbai, Jabalpur, Kolkata, Jaipur and Hajipur.

Misa's farmhouse in Chhatarpur in Delhi was the CBI's target, apart from her MP's residence. She is a Rajya Sabha member. The houses of some of the beneficiaries were also searched by the raiding teams in Bihar.

A private company allegedly controlled by Yadav's family members was also involved in the "transfer of immovable properties" in the name of Rabri Devi and her two daughters.

Investigations suggest that by the properties were "acquired" by Yadav's family members through five sale and two gift deeds "showing payment made to the seller in cash in most of the land transfer".

TOUR OF DUTY ENTRY IN FORCES LIKELY BY MAY-END

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

THE entire process of recruitment at the soldier level is set to undergo a sea change as the Department of Military Affairs is busy giving final touches to the Tour of Duty (ToD) proposal to address manpower scarcity in the forces.

The proposal might get implemented at the end of this month, said a source. Once that happens, recruitments for soldiers, sailors and airmen will be done under ToD entry, which will be only for four years, including a training period of six months, the source added.

Efforts are being made to make it an attractive proposition for the recruits, with a severance package and a certificate/diploma that will help in post-military employment.

The three forces are currently facing manpower crunch since no recruitments have taken place for past two years. As per the data presented by the government in Parliament in December, of the total 11,35,799 Junior Commissioned Officers and Other Ranks in the Army, 97,177 are vacant. Similarly, there are 63,515 posts of sailors in the Navy and a shortage of 11,166 while there are 1,38,792 Airmen posts in the IAF of which 4,850 are vacant.

Currently, soldiers join the forces between 17.7 years and 21 years of age and serve a minimum of 15 years before retirement. Under ToD, the permanent cadre will be inducted once their cycle of four years gets completed. "Once these soldiers go home, they will be freshly inducted as permanent recruits after going through a selection board," said an officer.

The rigours involved in selection won't change, but there can be some changes in the induction process. "The plan is to conduct the written exams first so that only those meeting the eligibility condition are called for physical tests, thus reducing the chaos during the recruitment rally," the officer added.

Listing another positive of the ToD proposal, the officer said the average age profile of the units will be younger — from 35-36 years, it will go down to 25-26 years.

"AFTER considering the entire material on record, we conclude that the deceased have not committed any offence in connection with the incident on 06.12.2019, like snatching the weapons, attempt to escape from the custody, assaulting and firing at the police party," it added.

The report said the suspects, at the time of arrest, were entitled to a number of constitutional and statutory rights that were violated by the police personnel.

It suggested that no police officer should hold a press conference in respect of an offence under investigation until such time as it is complete and final report filed in the concerned court.

The commission suggested that the Magisterial Inquiry under Section 176 (1-A) Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973, in cases of deaths in police custody should be conducted by a judicial magistrate only.

It recommended that investigative processes such as arrest, service of notice of arrest, crime scene observation, inquest, forensic examination of the crime scene, recovery of material objects, topography of the crime scene should be video recorded.

On the night of November 27, 2019, the veterinarian, 27, was kidnapped, gang-raped and murdered near a toll plaza at Tondupally, Shamshabad and her body was dumped and burnt at Chatanpally near Shadnagar, on the outskirts of Hyderabad.

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

Subsequently, Sidhu was taken to the Central Jail where he was lodged in ward 10 (Barrack).

A number of Congress leaders, including former MLAs Navtej Singh Cheema, Ashwani Sekhri, Hardial Singh Kamboj, Pirmal Singh Khalsa and former MP Dharamvir Gandhi, and supporters visited the former PCC chief's house in the morning and a few of them accompanied him to the court, and then to the hospital. While Cheema drove Sidhu's SUV. The former PCC was wearing a blue 'Pathani suit' while on way to the court.

"Sidhu has been sentenced to one year. It is not all over. He will come back and shine in politics," said Cheema.

Sources said Sidhu is lodged in ward 10 of the central jail along with around ten inmates and there is no bed or television or other amenities but one toilet in the barrack.

Sidhu's surrender came just hours after he approached the Supreme Court seeking a week to surrender. A bench told senior advocate A M Singhvi, appearing for Sidhu, that he could file an application before the CJI. Singhvi said he will mention the matter before the CJI.

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

AFTER languishing behind bars for 27 months, Samajwadi Party stalwart Azam Khan walked free from the Sitapur district jail to the warm welcome by his two sons and Pragatisheel Samajwadi Party-Lohia leader Shivpal Yadav on Friday.

Khan was released in compliance of the Supreme Court order which granted him bail in a cheating case. He had been in jail since February, 2020 in connection with 89 cases pertaining to land grabbing, intimidation, forgery, theft among others.

The Rampur MLA reached his home to a rousing welcome by his supporters and SP workers. Khan said he would never forget the treatment meted out to him and his family. "They have ruined my city. My journey of 40 years will not go in vain. I swear that these dried trees will come to life again. My time will also return," the legislator said.

Without taking names, Khan claimed that biggest atrocities were committed by near and dear ones. "Those who put the poison in the roots of these withered trees were my own dear ones," he said in an indirect hint to the SP leadership. Raj Thackeray cancels Ayodhya visit amid BJP MP's warning

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mumbai

MNS chief Raj Thackeray on Friday announced the cancellation of his much-hyped Ayodhya visit. Making the announcement on his party's social media account, Thackeray said the reason behind the decision would be explained during his rally in Pune on Sunday.

Thackeray's change of mind comes amid warning by BJP MP Brijbhushan Singh who had flayed Thackeray and MNS workers for "assaulting North Indians" in Mumbai. "If he does not apologise, we will not allow him to even step out from the airport. We are not against Maharashtra but against Raj Thackeray and his anti-North Indian agenda. We welcome his new Hindutva ideology but he is not a true leader," he said.

Shiv Sena's Sanjay Raut said if Raj needed any help, his party would have extended all possible support, but he should not have cancelled the trip. Another Sena leader Deepali Saiyeed responded sarcastically: "If Raj is afraid of going to Ayodhya alone, then he should go along with Sena minister Aaditya Thackeray who is also scheduled to visit Ayodhya."

Security personnel stand guard as Muslims arrive in large numbers at the Gyanvapi mosque in Varanasi on Friday | PTI

Gyanvapi mosque sees spurt in footfall for Friday prayer

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Lucknow

THE Friday prayer at Gyanvapi mosque in Varanasi, the first after the May 16 court order sealing the wuzu khana (pond), passed off peacefully amid tight security arrangements by the district administration and alternative arrangement of water for wuzu (ritual washing before prayers) by the mosque management committee.

Despite an advisory by the Anjuman Intizamia Masajid (AIM) to Muslims to offer namaz at local mosques, there was a sudden rise in the number of attendees for the Friday prayer. As many as 1,200 devotees reached the mosque which has capacity to accommodate 2,000. The masjid used to witness barely 350-400 people on earlier Fridays.

Amid heavy police presence, Muslim devotees entered the mosque through gate number 4 of the Kashi Vishwanath Dham area to offer the prayers. The entrance to the mosque and surrounding areas were under the careful watch of district police and CRPF.

The AIM had urged the namazis to come for prayers after performing wuzu at home. However, the mosque authorities had arranged two drums containing 1,000 litres water each for wuzu after receiving permission from the district administration.

District Magistrate Kaushal Raj Sharma said the namaz passed off peacefully with the active cooperation and support of the Anjuman Intizamia Masajid. "Taking proactive initiative, the mosque committee had arranged volunteers for the smooth handling of namazis," said the DM, adding that a meeting was held with the mosque authorities on Thursday in this regard.

Jignesh questions Hardik diatribe against Congress

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

IN a sharp comeback against Hardik Patel, the Congress on Friday fielded social activist and party-supported MLA Jignesh Mevani to defend itself against Patidar leader's fusillade unleashed on the day of his exit from the party.

In a presser, Mevani said Hardik — a one-time close associate of the Vadgam MLA — should have left the party gracefully.

"I don't understand why he (Patel) remembered Ambani and Adani in his criticism. I am with Congress despite ideological differences. How is his chicken sandwich remark related to Rahul ji?" he asked.

Hardik had directed his attack at the triviality of state party leaders who while meeting Rahul are "more busy with getting their chicken sandwiches on time."

"The Congress has given a lot to Hardik Patel. It made him a star campaigner in the elections and gave him a helicopter for campaigning. He has spoken against those who gave him enough attention. He might as well have resigned as there are 32 cases pending against him," said Jignesh.

The Patidar community lost 14 youths and 32 false cases were foisted against Hardik. When the police were lathi-charging you, did the government show its big heart?

Jignesh Mevani

On Hardik praising the saffron party for the Patidar reservation, Jignesh said, "The government did not show any favour. The Patidar community lost 14 youths and 32 false cases were foisted against Hardik during the agitation. When the police were lathi-charging you, did the government show its big heart?" asked the Vadgam legislator.

Later, Hardik Patel, too, responded to Mevani, saying "no matter which political party Mevani is in, he is my friend."

CBI raids IAS officer's premises

AHMEDABAD: The CBI on Thursday conducted search operations at the office and residence of a Gujarat cadre IAS officer of the 2011 batch. The operation was carried out simultaneously in Gandhinagar, Surendranagar and Surat in the state, and Rajamundri in the officer's home state Andhra Pradesh. The searches were in a connection with a corruption case that was lodged against the officer by the investigating agency's Delhi unit. The officer in the question has been identified as K Rajesh. Mohammed Rafiq Memon, who runs a garment shop in Surat and allegedly acted as the IAS officer's middleman to collect bribe, has been detained from Surat. Sources said CBI also questioned a BJP leader from Saurashtra. The official had a tainted tenure while being posted in Saurashtra, and was transferred from the home department as complaints were filed against him with the Anti-Corruption Bureau, a department that falls under the state home department. ENS

Sena plays hardball with 'Independent' Sambhaji

SUDHIR SURYAVANSHI @Mumbai

FORMER BJP Rajya Sabha member Sambhaji Maharaj is in a dilemma on whether to accept the Shiv Sena's offer to be its official candidate or contest as an Independent in the Rajya Sabha election scheduled on June 10.

Of the six seats up for grabs in the western state, opposition BJP will get two candidates elected without any trouble going by its strength in the Maharashtra Assembly. While the Shiv Sena, the Congress and the NCP are contesting one seat each, the Uddhav Thanckeray-led party has staked the claim on the sixth Rajya Sabha seat.

The likes of actor Urmila Matondkar and former Lok Sabha MP Chandrakant Khaire are doing the rounds as the probable Sena candidate for the sixth seat. Shiv Sena boss and Maharashtra Chief Minister Uddhav Thackeray is yet to decide who gets the coveted ticket to the Upper House.

Sambhaji has already thrown his hat in the ring as an Independent candidate. He has also written support letters to all parties.

Sambhaji even met Uddhav seeking the Sena's support for his independent candidature. But, the grapevine is that the Maharashtra chief minister asked him to be Sena official candidate, or else his party would not support him.

Lending credence to the speculation, Sena spokesperson Sanjay Raut said that he and his party had a lot of respect for Sambhaji but maintained that election is an altogether different thing.

"If Sambhaji Maharaj is serious and joins Sena, then we will surely think of fielding him as our official candidate in the Rajya Sabha poll. If he is not, then he may have his own calculations. To win the Rajya Sabha seat, you need 43 votes. I hope Sambhaji must have these numbers and hence he has announced himself as Independent candidate," Raut said.

'PINK SPRING' IN TEMPLE GIVES HOPE TO PANDITS

FAYAZ WANI @Tulumulla (Ganderbal)

KASHMIRI Pandits visiting a temple in central Kashmir are heaving a sigh of relief after the spring on the premises "changed its colour" from red to pink.

According to the priest, the spring at Kheer Bhawani temple in Ganderbal district had turned red — signifying bad omen — after the killing of Kashmiri Pandit employee Rahul Bhat by militants last week. However, the water body has become pinkish recently, signifying peace.

The temple, devoted to Ragnya Devi, is much revered by Kashmiri Pandits. Thousands of Pandits visit the temple every year on the occasion of the annual Zeshta Ashtami festival, to be held next month.

The Kheer Bhawani temple is a favourite pilgrim spot of Pandits | ZAHOOR PUNJABI

As per the priest and the Pandit devotees visiting the temple, the spring exhibits changes in the colour of its waters from time to time, which are ascribed to different manifestations of the goddess. "If the spring gets red or black colour, we see it as a bad omen," said Rakesh Pandita, a Pandit devotee from Jammu.

Priest Pandit Kalbushan Sharma told this newspaper that the colour of the spring had turned red last week and it remained so for a day. But it has changed since then and now the spring has pink colour. "We see pink (colour) as a good omen. It is an auspicious colour and signifies peace," Sharma said, claiming that pink is the goddess's personal colour. "There will be peace in the world". Maintaining that the change of colour of the spring is natural, the priest said, "Water of the spring was tested in the past and it was found that no outside stuff had been put into it."

LANKA EXPANDS CABINET, BUT NO FINANCE MINISTER

Rajapaksa swears in 9 ministers in an effort to ensure stability until full cabinet is formed

COLOMBO

CASH-STRAPPED Sri Lanka appointed nine more ministers on Friday to an "all-party government" tasked with trying to steer the country out of its economic crisis, but the crucial finance portfolio remains vacant.

Prime Minister Ranil Wickremesinghe took over earlier this month after Mahinda Rajapaksa, the president's elder brother, resigned as escalating protests blamed his administration for leading Sri Lanka's economy to the brink of collapse.

Wickremesinghe had pledged to put together a cross-party coalition after the previous cabinet was dissolved.

The new ministers — for health, education and justice, among others —were sworn in before President Gotabaya Rajapaksa at his tightly-guarded official residence in Colombo, the government said in a brief statement. Two legislators from the main opposition SJB party broke ranks to join the new government. Another opposition party, the Sri Lanka Freedom Party, agreed to support President Rajapaksa and was given one portfolio on Friday. The finance position — which will bring with it responsibility for leading negotiations with the International Monetary Fund over a bail-out — remains vacant. But the new prime minister's office said someone would be appointed next week. The delay in getting a finance minister could hinder the IMF negotiations, the central bank chief warned on Thursday. Sri Lanka is facing its worst-ever shortage of foreign exchange with the government unable to finance even the most essential imports such as food, fuel and medicines.

The country of 22 million people has been enduring severe economic hardships for months. Agencies

Biden opens Asia trip with global issues, tech on agenda

PYEONGTAEK (S KOREA): US President Joe Biden arrived in South Korea Friday on his first Asia trip as the leader of the United States, aiming to cement economic and security ties with regional allies despite growing fears of a North Korean nuclear test. His first stop was a massive Samsung semiconductor factory, where he received a warm welcome from South Korea's new President Yoon Suk-yeol, with global supply chain issues topping the agenda. Biden, in his first remarks since arriving in South Korea at the start of a trip meant to demonstrate US resolve to lead in Asia, said the two countries' alliance was "a lynchpin of peace, stability and prosperity" in the world. Speaking at the factory in Pyeongtaek alongside Yoon, Biden described the advanced semiconductors manufactured there as "a wonder of innovation" and crucial to the world's economy. Agenices

Ukraine orders end to defence of Mariupol

KYIV

UKRAINE on Friday ordered its remaining troops holed up in Mariupol's besieged Azovstal steelworks to lay down their arms after nearly three months of desperate resistance.

Russia's flattening of the strategic port city has drawn multiple accusations of war crimes, including a deadly attack on a maternity ward, and Ukraine has begun a reckoning for captured Russian troops. The first post-invasion trial of a Russian soldier for war crimes neared its closely watched climax in Kyiv, after 21-year-old sergeant Vadim Shishimarin admitted to killing an unarmed civilian early in the offensive. The verdict is due on May 23.

Shishimarin told the court on Friday that he was "truly sorry" but his lawyer said in closing arguments that the young soldier was "not guilty" of premeditated murder and war crimes. While Ukrainian forces fended off the Russian offensive around Kyiv, helped by a large infusion of Western arms, both eastern Ukraine and Mariupol in the south have borne the brunt of a ferocious ground and artillery attack.

President Volodymyr Zelensky's government received a fresh boost as the US Congress approved a $40-billion (38-billion-euro) aid package, including funds to enhance Ukraine's armoured vehicle fleet and air defence system. And meeting in Germany, G7 industrialised nations pledged $19.8 billion to shore up Ukraine's shattered public finances. Ukraine sorely needs enhanced capability to fend off the kind of onslaught Russia is waging in the eastern region of Donbas, a Russian-speaking area that has been partially controlled by pro-Kremlin separatists since 2014. AFP

RBI payout to govt falls to ₹30K cr in FY22

Apex bank had paid ₹99K cr for 9 months in FY21; govt was expecting ₹73,948 cr from RBI and other PSBs in FY23

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Reserve Bank of India (RBI) on Thursday approved ₹30,307 crore as dividend for the financial year 2021-2022 to the government, which is significantly lower than last year's payout.

The apex bank had paid ₹99,122 crore as dividend for nine months in FY21. The 596th meeting of the apex bank's board was chaired by its Governor Shaktikanta Das.

Notably, in 2020, the central bank had switched to April-March accounting year from July to June, in a bid to align with the government's financial year. Considering this also, the FY 21 dividend was much higher as against the dividend for FY22, which is for a period of twelve months.

The RBI is likely to release its annual report in the month-end with all the details related to dividend, etc. Dividend from the apex bank is one of the main sources of income for the government.

It is already fighting with the record-high inflation. The significant drop in dividend from central bank is another setback for the government.

According to the the Budget 2022 announcements, the government was expecting to receive ₹73,948 crore from RBI and other public sector banks(PSBs) in FY23. The lower payout to the Centre could be on account of increase in reverse repo rate in FY22 to control the money supply.

Reverse repo rate is the interest rate at which the central bank borrows from commercial banks to suck out excess liquidity from the economy. When the Covid pandemic had hit the country in FY20, the Reserve Bank of India had infused huge amount of liquidity into the system by reducing policy repo rates in two phases by 115 basis points.

In FY22, when the pandemic came under control and the economy opened up, the RBI increased the reverse repo rate to decrease the money supply. Besides this, the banking sector regulator also decided to keep a 5.5% contingency risk buffer.

JAPAN

APRIL CONSUMER INFLATION BEATS BOJ TARGET IN 7 YRS

Japan's core consumer inflation in April exceeded a central bank target of 2% for the first time in 7 years, but thanks to rising import costs, not the strong domestic demand that the central bank has been trying to kindle. Still, the 2.1% rise in the core consumer price index (CPI) announced on Friday reinforces market scepticism that the Bank of Japan (BOJ) will maintain its ultra-loose monetary policy, especially since households are suffering rising costs without substantial wage growth. The core CPI data excludes prices of volatile fresh food but not energy, which has galloped higher due to the war in Ukraine. So have costs of other commodities, which affect prices of non-fresh food, another driver of the lift in inflation. Before April, the index had not risen so fast since 2015 or, excluding a mid-decade period affected by a hike in sales tax, not since 2008. For years, inflation has generally struggled to reach even 1%, despite efforts by the BOJ to get it to 2.0%. But analysts said that finally beating the target now was no great cause for celebration, because costs of foreign energy and other commodities had driven the upward shift. The BOJ set its 2% inflation target in 2013, during the first year of the tenure of its current governor, Haruhiko Kuroda. He has repeatedly said the central bank will be in no hurry to end its stimulus efforts, because any cost-push rise in inflation would be temporary.

ASIA

IMF URGES ASIA TO BE MINDFUL OF SPILLOVER RISKS

Asian economies must be mindful of spillover risks as a decade of unconventional easing policies by major central banks is unwound faster than expected, International Monetary Fund(IMF) Deputy Managing Director Kenji Okamura said. This risk applied particularly to the most vulnerable economies, said Okamura. Asian economies faced a choice between supporting growth with more stimulus and withdrawing it to stabilise debt and inflation, he said. The Bank of Japan's easing policy -- which the IMF has described as quite effective -- runs counter to a global shift towards monetary tightening, with central banks in the United States, Britain and Australia having already raised interest rates. The widening gap between Japanese and U.S. interest rates has been a major factor behind the recent yen depreciation to two-decade lows. "You can mostly explain the recent movements, especially the last month, in the yen based on essentially tighter global monetary policy" including the U.S. Federal Reserve, said Ranil Salgado, assistant director and Japan mission chief at IMF's Asia and Pacific Department. "The yen depreciation on balance helps Japan," Salgado added, echoing views of BOJ Governor Haruhiko Kuroda. Okamura, a former Japanese vice finance minister for international affairs, said the COVID-19 pandemic, the war in Ukraine and tighter global financial conditions would make this year "challenging" for Asia.

TAIWAN

TAIWAN EXPORT ORDERS FALL FOR FIRST TIME IN 2 YEARS

Taiwan's export orders — a bellwether for global technology demand — fell for the first time in 25 months in April, taking a larger-than-expected hit from COVID lockdowns in China and broader global supply chain disruptions. Export orders fell 5.5% from a year earlier to $51.9 billion last month, data from the Ministry of Economic Affairs showed on Friday. The decline was the first in more than two years, since the COVID-19 pandemic began sweeping the world in 2020, and up-ended analysts' forecasts for 8.3% growth. Orders for telecommunications products dropped 21.5% on year, mainly due to government measures to control the spread of COVID-19 in China, the ministry said. Orders for electronic products edged up 4.3%, with China's lockdowns "deepening the supply and demand imbalance," the ministry said. Growth in the past two years or so had been supported by booming tech demand fueled by the work and study from home trend during the COVID pandemic, as well as a global semiconductor shortage that has filled Taiwanese chip makers' order books. The ministry said it expects export orders in May to be in a range of a fall of 1.1% and an expansion of 1.7% from a year earlier.

Jet Airways gets operator licence, to fly by September

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

NEARLY three years after it was grounded, Jet Airways has overcome all the hurdles to spread wings again, as the airline on Friday received air operator certificate (AOC) from regulator DGCA.

The Jalan-Kalrock Consortium, the new owners of the airline, has fulfilled all the conditions under the NCLT-approved resolution plan.

The revalidation of AOC enables Jet Airways, which went bankrupt and stopped flying nearly three years ago, to resume its scheduled commercial operations in India. The airline's comeback is a rare feat in the global aviation industry.

The new management will recommence operations in the next quarter of this year (July-September 2022) and the airline said its aircraft and fleet plan, network, product and customer value proposition, loyalty program, and other details will be unveiled in the coming weeks. Before it suspended operations in April 2019, Jet flew to over 65 destinations in India and across the world with 124 aircraft.

Grant of the AOC came after the airline successfully conducted a number of proving flights between May 15-17, with key DGCA officials on board.

Jet's revival comes at a time when aviation industry is recovering from the havoc caused by covid pandemic and rising jet fuel prices.

Add to it, competition in this space is expected to soar with the deep pocketed Tata's, after Air India acquisition, is eyeing to raise its market share and billionaire investor Rakesh Jhunjhunwala-backed Akasa Air is expected to make its maiden flight in coming months. "There is a need for an airline that is simply not a clone of other airlines, but actually offers something that is different," said CEO Sanjiv Kapoor.

Govt plans to bring mechanism for KYC-based callers' name display

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

The Department of Telecom (DoT) is planning to bring a mechanism for display of KYC-based names of callers when someone calls.

According to the chairman of Telecom Regulatory Authority of India (Trai), P D Vaghela, the regulatory body has received a reference to begin consultation on the same from the government and consultation on this is expected to begin in the next few months.

Vaghela said Trai has just received a reference, and it will start working on the matter soon. He further said that the regulator had already been thinking on similar lines, but now with the specific reference from the telecom department, work on this will start soon.

"The mechanism will enable name-appearing on a phone screen, in accordance with KYC done by telecom companies, as per DoT norms," said Vaghela.

The move by the telecom department will help identify callers as per their KYC (know your customer) and bring greater accuracy and transparency than some apps that identify callers based on crowdsourcing data.

According to the information, once the framework for the KYC-based new mechanism is worked out, the identity establishment will become clearer and more legally tenable. This is also going to clean-up data on crowdsourcing apps as there will be KYC linkages.

Trai has recently released its recommendation paper, in which it recommended to cut the base rate of 3.3-3.67 GHz airwaves to ₹317 crore a unit, from ₹492 crore a unit.

It has also reduced the price of the 700 MHz band to ₹3,927 crore, after failing to bid out in the past two sales due to high price.

However, the telecom industry wants the base price reduced by 90% in order for better services.

It has also implemented blockchain technology to curb the problem of unsolicited commercial communication (UCC) or spam calls and messages.

Consultation on the matter to begin soon

Trai Chairman P D Vaghela says has just received a reference, and it will start working on the matter soon. He further said that the regulator had already been thinking on similar lines, but now with the specific reference from DoT, work on this will start soon

BSE SENSEX, NSE NIFTY SURGE NEARLY 3%

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

MARKETS ended a five-week losing streak with Nifty and Sensex climbing nearly 3% each on the back of a short covering rally across global markets after China cut a key interest rate to spur home demand .

The Nifty closed up 456.75 points at 16266.15 and the Sensex rose a whopping 1534 points to 54326.39 on Friday on hopes of China's boost to its ailing economy raising demand for metals and other commodities, which have been battered by central bank rate tightening . However FIIs continued to be sellers, offloading shares worth a provisional ₹1,265 crore even as DIIs purchased shares worth ₹2149 crore . So far this fiscal through May 19, FIIs have sold Indian shares worth ₹52,281 crore or $ 6.8 bn .

They cut their net short positions on index futures contracts to 38,378 from 75,387 contacts on May 19. It was this short covering mainly that drove up the Nifty and to a lesser extent the Bank Nifty . A fall in open interest accompanied by price rise signals short covering .

Friday's rise was led by RIL, which gained 6%, Dr Reddy's Lab (7.6%), Adani Ports (5.3%) , JSW Steel (5.11%) and Tata Motors (4.85%). Shree Cement and UPL were the only Nifty losers. Despite Friday's sharp bounce , market analysts feel the bottom has not yet been made . "We seem to be hovering over the March low of 15671 and bouncing from there ," said Hormuz Maloo, director , AFco Investments . " Unless that level is tested , we might still not have made the bottom."

Markets snap losing spree with big gains

Nifty closed up 456.75 points at 16,266.15 and the Sensex rose a whopping 1,534 points to 54,326.39 on Friday on hopes of China's boost to its ailing economy raising demand for metals and other commodities, which have been battered by central bank rate tightening

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

GERMAN retail giant Metro AG is reviewing strategic options with potential partners to accelerate its cash and carry India business.

A Metro AG spokesperson on Friday said Metro India is a growing business in a market with enormous potential for wholesale.

"We are reviewing strategic options with potential partners to enhance Metro's existing wholesale capabilities and accelerate the business development in India."

This comes after a news report early on Friday said that the retailer has approached several large companies to sell its India operations for an estimated value of $1.5 billion to $1.7 billion.

The Economic Times report also named Amazon, Reliance Retail, Avenue Supermarts, Tata Group, Lulu Group apart from private equity fund Samara Capital among companies that the retailer has approached in India. It said JP Morgan and Goldman Sachs have been appointed to find a buyer for the business after Bain & Co submitted a detailed strategy report.

Responding to this, the Metro AG spokespersons said they will not comment on rumours or speculations in the media.

Talking about the company financials, a Metro India spokesperson said its business is doing quite well and has been profitable since 2018; now continuously four years in a row. HC seeks CBI reply on bail plea of Chitra

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

The Delhi HC has sought the response from the CBI on Chitra Ramkrishna's bail plea. Justice Sudhir Kumar Jain has posted the matter for further hearing on May 31.

A special CBI court denied the former NSE MD & CEO bail earlier this month. Ramkrishna and her former colleague Anand Subramanian are in judicial custody .

The arrests were made as part of CBI probe of the colocation scam in light of the new facts following Sebi's order of February 11 which alleged governance lapses against Ramkrishna and others . CBI had filed an FIR in the colocation case in May 2018 .

NVIDIA goes in for a 'hiring pause', offers in-process to continue

SAMIKSHA GOEL @ New Delhi

Global tech major NVIDIA has joined the list of companies that have recently announced layoffs and hiring freezes.

According to sources, NVIDIA has communicated with hiring managers about the 'hiring pause'. However, offers in process will continue.

The TNIE has seen the internal message that has been sent to the hiring managers at the company.

"This is not a "freeze", it's a pause. Hiring continues. We were told that leadership wants to take a pause to onboard the thousands of new hires we've recently made," the slack message reads.

Some guidelines for hiring, as mentioned in the message, say bars will be raised for the ongoing interviews and only 10% of those interviewed will be given offers. "Onsite interviews (any onsite that's already planned) – continue, but we will raise our standard to the highest levels." "Offers in process – will continue. It, however, said that diversity hiring will continue and there will be no slowdown in that. "We need to determine if any of your candidates are considered a diversity candidate. If so, proceed as usual." In a response to TNIE's query, an NVIDIA spokesperson said, "We've been successful in hiring this year. We're slowing for now to integrate new employees and to focus our budget on taking care of existing employees as inflation persists."

Paytm reports 72% surge in losses to ₹762 crore in fourth quarter of FY22

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

ONE97 COMMUNICATIONS, the parent firm of fintech firm Paytm, on Friday reported a 72% increase in its loss at ₹762 crore for the fourth quarter of the financial year 2021-22.

The company had posted a loss of ₹444 crore in the same quarter last fiscal. For the full year FY22, the company's losses grew by 41% to 2,396 crore from Rs 1,701 loss crore in FY21.

The company's revenues from operations were up by 89 percent year-on-year, coming in at Rs 1,541 crore. For the full year, its consolidated revenue from operations grew by 77% to Rs 4,974 Cr in FY 2022 from Rs 2,802 Cr for the FY 2021.

Despite a sharp surge in losses, Paytm claims it is on track to achieve break-even by quarter ending September 2023.

"Paytm ended the fiscal year with strong growth across our businesses and reductions in EBITDA losses, which puts us well on track to achieve operating breakeven by the quarter ending September 2023."

It added, "One of the highlights of the quarter has been the rapid growth of our lending products which provides us with an attractive profit pool. In April 2022, we reached an annualised run rate of approximately ₹20,000 Cr of disbursement through our platform."

The company said that in Q4 FY22, it witnessed strong improvement in contribution margins to 35%, up from 31% in Q3 FY22 and 21% in Q4 FY 2021.

This was driven by significant improvement in payments contribution margins, growth of high-margin financial Services, and increased margin in merchant services (Commerce & Cloud) vertical," said the fintech firm.

India's Praggu beats Carlsen again

Magnus Carlsen lost to India's R Praggnanandha at ongoing Chessable Masters, an online rapid chess event featuring some of the world's best players. Praggnanandha had earlier beaten Carlsen in the eighth round of the Airthings Masters, another rapid event, in February. The Chessable Masters is part of a nine-event series that's known as the Champions Chess Tour.

IT'S ALL ABOUT CSK AND DHONI

On a day when fans came to watch team in yellow, RR win to finish second in points table

VENKATA KRISHNA B @Mumbai

IT'S 2009. As the Brabourne Stadium prepared to host its first Test match in 36 years, the former BCCI president Rajsingh Dungarpur who also headed the Cricket Club of India – housed inside the stadium – summed up the moment in his own style.

"I still cannot believe that international cricket is poised to return to the CCI in such a big way. It's almost like a widow getting remarried and starting a new life. But make no mistake, the widow is still exceptionally beautiful." He didn't live to see the moment, passing away shortly afterwards, but in 2022 as the venue hosted its last match of the ongoing IPL season between Chennai Super Kings and Rajasthan Royals, it looked much more than a remarriage.

The Wankhede stadium, which is only a stone's throw away from the Brabourne, will always remain the heart and soul of Mumbai and Indian cricket, but it is CCI which has the romance. With the Trident hotel overlooking it on one side and the Marine drive on the other, the locals, this season at least, have preferred it over Wankhede and DY Patil for an entirely different reason. The open stands at one end, allows the sea breeze to pass through it at all points, making the heat tolerable.

Sometime on Friday evening, with the humidity rising up to go with the gloom, some who had arrived early for the game were even wondering if a downpour would ruin the game. In terms of the contest, there was hardly much to look forward to, except if you were a Rajasthan fan. They are the team which has the best T20 batter in the world in Jos Buttler, who has the Orange Cap. They have two world-class spinners in their ranks, a lethal new ball bowler and they are all led by the most gifted of strokemaker, Sanju Samson. Yet, it was near impossible to spot a pink shirt.

The fans were here to see only one team. And you could identify them by the colour of the t-shirts they were wearing: yellow. If you happened to walk around the stadium with an IPL tag around your neck, you were bound to see someone walk up and ask, "do you have an extra ticket." Those queries even gave way to pleas with one teenager even folding his hands and say, "Please get me a ticket. Even bookmyshow has been saying its sold out for days. It surely can't be. They must have it somewhere here. They say it is (MS) Dhoni's last game, I just want to see him play once." That was the feeling among many. In a season where crowds have turned out in numbers across all four venues, Friday was no different.

So why bother for a game like this? The answer was short. Dhoni. Most had turned up to bid adieu to the man who 11 summers ago sent the whole of Mumbai and India into a frenzy by lifting the World Cup. Inconsequential or not, it didn't matter here.

Will be back next year: MSD

And Dhoni too had contributed to an extent a couple of weeks ago, by remaining non-committal about returning as a player next season. Brief scores: CSK 150/6 in 20 ovs (Moeen 93; McCoy 2/20, Chahal 2/26) lost to RR 151/5 in 19.4 ovs (Yashasvi 59, Ashwin 40 n.o; Solanki 2/20).

CoA appointments seem to be the norm. Is IOA next?

FLIPSIDE

INDRANEEL DAS

The hearing was swift and the decision 'forthwith'. The Supreme Court did not need much time to conclude that the All India Football Federation's (AIFF) term was over in 2020 but the elected members continued because a 2017 Delhi High Court order was stayed by the SC. The Delhi HC had annulled the 2016 AIFF elections because it was not held in accordance to the sports code. The SC, through an interim order in 2017, constituted a Committee of Administrators (CoA) to formulate the AIFF constitution in consonance with the National Sports Code and Model Guidelines and ensuring the constitution of the executive committee and for holding elections. The two-member CoA was former Election Commission chief, SM Qureshi, and former India player, Bhaskar Ganguly. The two, according to Ganguly, submitted the draft constitution in 2020 to court.

It took two more years for the May 18 hearing that constituted another CoA adding one more person as the head: Anil R Dave, a former SC judge. The AIFF's executive committee was finally asked to hand over charge to the CoA with immediate effect and the due course of election process would begin. But before that, the draft constitution would once again be distributed for any objections or suggestions by all stakeholders. The entire election process would be under the supervision of the CoA.

In the last few months, this is the second time a CoA has been appointed. Table Tennis Federation of India (TTFI) too had been dissolved and a CoA has been put in place over selection issues. But AIFF is not alone. Most of the federations don't follow the sports code in letter and spirit.

Senior advocate Rahul Mehra has filed an affidavit in the Delhi High Court highlighting this. Even sports ministry, while granting National Sports Federations recognition in 2020, had highlighted this and wanted them to bring their constitutions in line of the sports code. Even as SC took a swift decision in AIFF case, there are few cases that are still undecided. Take for example Equestrian Federation of India (EFI). Despite challenges in court that they don't adhere to sports code and sports ministry giving them special status (peculiar nature) yet their hearing is still on.

It seems constitution of CoA is the norm. Hearing in Rahul Mehra's petition challenging Indian Olympic Association's (IOA) constitution and its election has concluded but the order is reserved. Interestingly, the first petition was filed way back in 2010 and there were subsequent petitions over the years too. The order would have an over-reaching effect in Indian sports.

Sindhu seizes semifinal spot

AGENCIES @Bangkok

TWO-TIME Olympic medallist PV Sindhu eked out a three-game win over world number 1 Akane Yamaguchi of Japan to make it to the semifinals of the Thailand Open Super 500 tournament here on Friday. The sixth seeded Indian prevailed 21-15, 20-22, 21-13 over second seeded Japanese in 51 minutes to set up a clash with Olympic champ Chen Yu Fei of China.

The last time the duo played, the match was marred by controversy with Sindhu being penalised a point by the umpire for delaying tactics during the Badminton Asia Championships semifinals. Sindhu came into the match with a 13-9 head-to-head record and dished out another fine performance to notch up her 14th victory over the reigning World Champion.

Nothing separated the two in the initial phase with Sindhu depending on her cross court slices and drops to trouble Yamaguchi, who blew a three-point lead to allow the Indian to move to an 11-9 break.

Police probe Vieira incident

AFP @London

NEWCASTLE manager Eddie Howe has warned pitch invasions could lead to a "potential tragedy" as British police opened an investigation into an "altercation" involving Crystal Palace manager Patrick Vieira and an Everton fan. Footage appears to show Vieira kicking out at the supporter, who was apparently taunting the former Arsenal and France midfielder after Everton secured their Premier League status with a 3-2 win on Thursday.

The Palace manager, who was surrounded by jubilant Everton fans celebrating their survival, refused to comment on the incident after the game. Merseyside Police said in a short statement on Friday that they had begun a probe into the events at Goodison Park. "We are working with Everton FC to gather all available CCTV footage and are speaking to witnesses," the force said.

LIVING A dream

B'luru actor Iti Acharya, who made her debut appearance at Cannes, shares her experience of meeting stars like Tom Cruise

MONIKA MONALISA

THE moment Iti Acharya, who is currently at Cannes Film Festival 2022, put up a post on Tom Cruise at the premiere of Top Gun: Maverick, her inbox was filled with messages from friends, family, and followers. Recalling it as a surreal moment, Acharya says, "Cannes is otherwise very organised, but when Tom Cruise arrived, the crowd just surged. Although I didn't get to meet him in person, I got a clear glimpse of him which will stay with me for a long time."

Day 4 at Cannes was special since she was chief guest at the Global Short Film Awards. "I have been part of short films with many of them being screened here. But I haven't been able to be present here physically in the past," says Acharya, for whom this invite and event were a dream come true.

Calling the festival a hub of opportunities for film enthusiasts, Acharya is trying to make the most of it by bringing more recognition for her upcoming projects. "Everyone here is promoting their work. AR Rahman sir is here for the promotion of the movie, Le Musk, which is an Indian virtual reality film," says Acharya, who also met Indian artistes like Madhavan, Nawazuddin Siddiqui, and Tamannaah, at the inauguration ceremony at the Indian pavilion.

Though she was quite aware of the popularity of Indian films at Cannes, it was a pleasant surprise when she found out people recognised Sandalwood actor Yash too. "When people asked if I was from Bollywood, I corrected them that I am a south Indian actor. To which they replied, 'Oh, do you know Rocking Star Yash from KGF?' That felt great to hear," says Acharya. Cannes has been an aspirational goal for this south Indian actor since 2012, when she was studying at the National Institute of Fashion Technology, Bengaluru. However, she had been trying to attend it for the last five years. "To enter the film festival, you need to get something called a market badge, for which you have to approach festival authorities. Getting the badge is not easy since they check one's work. In fact, many Bollywood actors get rejected," claims Acharya.

The actor realises there are many like her who are trying to head to Cannes. Her first suggestion is not giving up hope if they are rejected at first go. "There are various ways to try. First, is through the film industry. For example, I have been part of Film Federation India (FFI) and Confederation of Indian Industry (CII) events at Cannes. And others are through fashion brands," says Acharya, who is attending the whole festival and will later be travelling to Monaco to attend Formula 1, happening on May 29.

AKSHARA HAASAN, DAUGHTER OF SUPERSTAR KAMAL HAASAN, WILL BE WALKING THE RAMP THIS WEEKEND AT A FASHION SHOW IN THE CITY

Glitz & Glam

EXPRESS FEATURES

THE weather in the city could be erratic and chilly but Bengaluru will be treated to a dose of glitz and glamour this weekend. At Panache, Summer Runway 2022 by India Film Makers(IFM), which is happening on May 22, at Hotel Capitol, actor Kamal Haasan's daughter, Akshara Haasan and Bigg Boss Tamil fame actor Sakshi Agarwal are going to be the showstoppers.

Akshara will be walking the ramp for celebrity designer Suresh Menon. "Akshara is an old friend and is one of the sweetest people I know. Even if she comes from a very affluent family, she is extremely down to earth. I have worked with her previously, so when it came to this show, she was my first pick," says Menon, a Chennai-based designer. This is not Menon's first visit to Bengaluru. From his previous experiences here, he finds it to be beautiful. "The crowd is warm, loving and people are extremely fashionable," explains Menon. Apart from him, the other designers who are showcasing their collections are Nick Roshan, Balaji Manickam, Prince Phenihas among others.

Pravin Psy

Themed 'red carpet and cocktail coutures', the show looks promising with a fun-filled evening. "Things are getting back to normal and people who had not stepped out of home for the past two years are decking out. Cocktail dresses are becoming go-to choices. This show will have something for everyone," says Pravin Psy, the show's founder. He adds that the evening will have five shows where 20 fashion models will be taking over the ramp. Having been working in the fashion industry for the past 10 years, Pravin says Bengalureans are well-versed in fashion. "They may not be into designer brands, but they keenly follow trending styles and are always well-dressed. That's why we make sure to showcase top-notch stuff," says Pravin.

Pravin, who also organises Fall Fashion Week by IFM, says Panche is a warm-up to the fashion week. "This is the fourth season of Panache, which is like a preview to the fall fashion week that is scheduled to happen in June," says Pravin. This year, Panache also has some guests from tinsel-town like Harshika Poonacha, and Shine Shetty to name a few.

- Lift up into Sarvangasana supporting the back with the hands.
- While breathing normally move into Halasana lowering the right leg behind the head until the toes touch the floor. Here, the left foot remains on the right thigh.
- Now, bring the arms above the head and hold the toes of the right foot with both hands.
- Here, the right leg remains straight. Breathing should be normal while holding the position.
- Now, return the hands to support the back and lift into Sarvangasana.
- With an exhale, roll the back down, and return to the starting position.
- Practise this exercise with the other leg, too.

Rubi Chakravarti
Writer, actor and funny girl

IT is said that the pain surrounding the loss of a loved one dulls with time. But no one has specified how much time. It was my beloved friend Mubina Vazirali's birthday on May 18 . We used to mark our calendars because we wanted to make this day exceptional for this extraordinary human who strove to make every day remarkable for people around her. The only time we succeeded was when her son flew down from London to jump out from behind the bushes to surprise her on her landmark birthday. The joy on her face still resonates with me as her glasses misted over as she hugged Shahid like she would never let him go.

I remember her frantically calling me when baby Shahid rolled over and hit his head on the ground. I rushed to her house because she was convinced that she had impaired his brain function forever! When we were convinced he was fine, we shared a cup of tea at 2 am. While we were chatting, her baby fell again! Now, he is a hot-shot member of The World Bank with a PhD in finance under his belt. Obviously, his skull was stronger than we imagined!

We were best friends from nursery; we had a stronger bond than by a mere connection by blood. Alpha moms, wives, friends and entrepreneurs, she taught me a lot about resilience. It's truly ironical that it was on her birthday that she wept (for the first and last time) and told me that the treatment had failed and she was returning home to die. I last saw her as she was being buried and I wanted to crawl into the space next to her. BFF's forever...

My mood this week was understandably mellow. I was not up to big crowds, small talk and false bonhomie. So, it was a relief when my friend Madhav Sehgal, GM of Leela Palaces, invited us to an intimate tete-a-tete with the tennis legend Vijay Amritraj. The evening aptly titled 'Live & Unplugged' featured a lively conversation with the erudite Vijay, spanning from tennis to his trysts with acting and being a vintner. Vijay's stories were amusing, engaging and informative. It was rather charming to see how humble and down to earth he was and as he called himself a 'true-blue Chennai boy who loves South Indian food'!

Call me a sadist but I love the drive to The Leela Bhartiya City. It gives me time to think when the traffic situation isn't grotesque! I was invited to preview a nouvelle wellness cuisine, aptly called Ajusya, conceived and executed in collaboration by India's foremost nutritionist, Dr Ankita Jalori. Chef Eliyaz spun his magic on locally-sourced ingredients and conjured up the most delicious yet low-calorie meal I have eaten so far. Of course when the GM Reuben Kataria is your lunch companion the meal and the conversations are both scintillating!

27 Summit is undoubtedly the new swish address in town. Beautiful flats built in a cul-de-sac in the heart of CBD cannot go wrong. So, when Anna and Rishad Minocher called auld Bangalore to introduce us to the builder and have a 'dekko' we went. Beautiful, exclusive and expensive homes. Bengaluru looks up after all!

TWENTY ONE HOURS

Cast: Dhananjay, Durga Krishna, Sudev Nair, ahul Madhav,

Director: Jaishankar Pandit

Dhananjay reflects wonder, mystery, and insight through his character in Twenty One Hours

A SHARADHAA

AD filmmaker Jaishankar Pandit's Twenty One Hours is an experimental thriller that aims to seek a niche of its own, and in a way, it does not disappoint. Moving away from all proven commercial elements, the film focuses intensely on the core subject with abundant scope available for suspense and curiosity.

The story, based on a real-life incident, begins with Girish (Dinesh Baboo) who comes to Bengaluru from Coimbatore with his wife, in search of their missing daughter, Madhuri Menon (Durga Krishna). The case is taken over by investigative officer Srikanth (Dhananjay). With many suspects, the narration is pretty comprehensive in exploring the personal side of Madhuri Menon. Despite many clues, Srikanth finds it tough to crack the case, and it gets even more complicated with Madhuri's death. As the investigation proceeds, darker truths emerge. The hint of a sequel as the film ends is interesting.

Individually, Twenty One Hours makes for a good thriller and is a fascinating watch. Casting Dhananjay is the biggest strength for the debutant filmmaker Jaishankar. Leaving aside his popularity as a commercial hero, Dhananjay reflects wonder, mystery, and insight through his grey shade character. Adding his own inventive touch, Dhananjay's expressions add to the personality of the complex role. Despite various actors coming in and out, the entire narrative heavily depends on Dhananjay's character.

The director seems to be in total control of putting together a small world of mystery, which is supported with technical brilliance. However, the dubbing desk plays spoilsport to a classy initiative. The rest of the cast including Durga Krishna, Dinesh Baboo, Sudev Nair, Rahul Madhav, Apoorva Bharadwaj, and Poornachandra Mysuru make their presence felt and play their part well.

While Dhananjay proves his acting calibre and Jaishankar succeeds in pulling off an almost impeccable thriller, the big question is whether the hardcore fans of Dhananjay will accept him in this new avatar.

Kitty shines in this regular action-revenge entertainer

A SHARADHAA

STAYING clear from the recent dose of heavy action entertainers, Garuda ensures it stands out from the crowd with its treatment of the action commercial entertainer.

Getting to the plot, written by actor Siddharth Mahesh, the first half revolves around Ram (Siddharth Mahesh), who is running a restaurant in Goa along with Anu (Aindrita Ray) and Shankrana (Rangayana Raghu). He comes in contact with an undercover cop (Rajesh Nataranga), of the anti-terrorism squad, who along with his team is on the lookout for a criminal gang headed by Kalinga (AdiLokesh). Through a flashback, we see how Ram pays a big price for his honesty, and then it follows the beat of a revenge drama with an explosive climax.

Director Dhanakumar avoided taking too many risks and largely sticks to the template run-of-the-mill action entertainer. Though the story and narrative could have done with a bit more focus, Dhanakumar scores with the casting.

Siddharth, who is featuring in his second film after Sipayi, gives a mature performance but there is room to improvise. Ashika Ranganath, Aindrita Ray, and Kamna Jethmalani get good screen space, and each actor justifies the role. Rangayana Raghu too has a significant role to play, but the highlight of Garuda is Srinagar Kitty. His character as a kadak police officer makes a strong presence. Garuda is recommended to those who love to see a mix of action-revenge, love, and family sentiments, and for those who had particularly missed Kitty's presence on the silver screen.

DHAAKAD

Cast: Kangana Ranaut, Arjun Rampal, Divya Dutta, Saswata Chatterjee, Sharid Hashmi

Director: Razneesh Ghai

An assault on sense and the senses

SHILAJIT MITRA

Dragonfly, this is Ringmaster," says a suited Saswata Chatterjee, cigarette in hand. This dash of suavity is better than anything else you might see in Dhaakad. Impeccably dressed, and operating from the shadows, Saswata is proof that it doesn't take much to class up a spy action movie. He's also proof that good ideas (or casting) matter little in a film hell-bent on destroying itself.

From its first scene, Dhaakad gives hints of its repetitious nature. Ringmaster sends out Dragonfly—also Agent Agni (Kangana Ranaut)—on a rescue mission in Europe. We follow her from hotel room to basement to big fight and back to basement and room. The story, likewise, hurtles from Budapest to India and back to Budapest. Japanese cinematographer Tetsuo Nagata (a veteran) fails to introduce any dynamism between scenes. A droning lullaby—linked to Agni's childhood trauma—is repeated ad nauseam, including a scene where the villain plays it out on a piano. Urgh.

The villain is Rudraveer (Arjun Rampal). Along with his partner, Rohini (Divya Dutta having a ball), he runs a global human trafficking ring from the coalmines of Bhopal. Agni, who admits forthwith that she has 'bad memories of India', is sent to root them out. There is some delicacy here: we begin with comedy as the stakes gradually rise. The criminals have a long chain-of-command; it's fun to see Agni stake them out one by one. Yet the smarter 'spy' ideas—a drone shaped like a dragonfly, a steroid-shooting watch—are soon abandoned for all-out brute force.

After the interval, the film is a tangle of attacks, explosions and clamorous sound effects. An ambush on Rudraveer's lair is especially noisy and chaotic. Director Razneesh 'Razy' Ghai ambitiously introduces multiple fighting styles—gunplay, fencing, hand-to-hand—but choreographs them without much variance or grace. Kangana, looking much like herself in a succession of wigs, pulls off the action well, even if a ludicrous Kill Bill-style training montage lets her down.

RATING 2/5

There is a mind-melting twist in the second half that even Ahmed Khan fans will scoff at. Action movies don't have to be smart, but they must have some semblance to reality for us to feel the tension. Agni resuscitating after a deadly blow and strolling into a swish Budapest club as its lead singer is the opposite of that. Dhaakad, reassuringly, comes free of political overtones. But the poor set design, monotonous locations and flat-to-caricaturish writing robs the film of any sense of time and place.

As I write this, word is out that Dhaakad might be getting a sequel, with Kangana reprising her role (the film leaves ample scope for that). Meanwhile, Rohit Shetty has long teased a female entry in his cop universe. The fate of action franchises in India has already been sealed by the likes of Baaghi, Commando, Heropanti. If the underlying template stays the same, with more clunkiness wrapped up in scale, what difference does a female-led franchise make?
